BUREAU OF SUPPLIES AND ACCOUNTS

PAY AND SUBSISTENCE OF NAVAL PERSONNEL

Pay and Subsistence of Naval Personnel—

For pay, allowances, subsistence and quarters prescribed by law for naval personnel, including reserves on active duty—

Pay and allowances: Officers, active duty, no part of which shall be available for increased pay for making aerial flights, by more than eighty-five officers above the rank of captain nor by nonflying officers or observers at rates in excess of those prescribed by law for the Army, which shall be the legal maximum rates as to such nonflying officers or observers; midshipmen; [officers, retired, inactive;] enlisted personnel, active, including cash prizes for men for excellence in gunnery, target practice, communication, and engineering competition; [enlisted men, retired, inactive;] men of the Fleet Reserve, inactive; nurses, female, active; [nurses, female, retired, inactive;] six months' death gratuity, officers, nurses, and enlisted personnel; cash allowances for uniforms for officers; clothing furnished annually to enlisted personnel [and issued in kind to members of the Navy Nurse Corps] or cash in lieu thereof; civilian clothing, including an overcoat when necessary, the cost of all not to exceed $30 per person to enlisted personnel given discharges for bad conduct, undesirability, unsuitability, or inaptitude; [reimbursement as authorized by the Act of December 28, 1945 (Public Law 277), to persons in the naval service, for personal property lost, destroyed, or damaged;] purchase of medals, crosses, bars, emblems, and other insignia; miscellaneous items, including interest on deposits by enlisted personnel; [losses in the accounts of Navy and Marine Corps officers certified under the Act of July 11, 1919 (31 U. S. C. 105), and the Act of June 10, 1921 (31 U. S. C. 104), and] payments in settlement of claims under the Act of January 2, 1942 (31 U. S. C. 224d); commuted rations; money allowances for subsistence and quarters of enlisted personnel when not furnished quarters or subsistence in kind, and for enlisted personnel absent from messes on temporary duty not involving travel (during which time all other subsistence shall be stopped): Provided, That, except in the case of those who have specifically enlisted for such duty, no appropriation contained in this Act shall be available for the pay, allowances, or other expenses of any enlisted man or civil employee performing service in the residence or quarters of an officer or officers on shore as a cook, waiter, or other work of a character performed by a household servant, but nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the voluntary employment in any such capacity of a retired enlisted man or a transferred member of the Fleet Reserve without additional expense to the Government, nor the sale of meals to officers by general messes on shore as regulated by detailed instructions from the Navy Department; total, pay and allowances, [$1,214,296,000] $1,021,116,000.

Subsistence: For provisions for messes, subsistence in messes, and other subsistence in kind as authorized by law; [$52,796,000] $88,820,000.

In all, for pay and subsistence of naval personnel, [$1,267,092,000] $1,109,936,000, and the money herein specifically appropriated for "Pay and subsistence, Navy", shall be disbursed and accounted for in accordance with existing law and shall constitute one fund.

[In addition to the foregoing amount, the Secretary of the Navy is hereby authorized to transfer to the subsistence subhead of this appropriation, at such time during the fiscal year 1948 as he may deem advisable, not to exceed $50,000,000 from the Clothing and Small Stores Fund and/or the Naval Stock Fund.] *(34 U. Clothing and Small Stores Fund—

NOTE.—A revolving fund created by the Act of June 30, 1890, for the purpose of making available to enlisted personnel of the Navy clothing and individual items of small stores. The Fund finances the maintenance of clothing and small stores inventories through purchase or manufacture. Receipts to the Fund are derived from sale of such items (including condemned and surplus stores) and from issues charged to an appropriation or fund. (31 U. S. C. 640)

Pay of the Navy, Deposit Fund—

That any enlisted man or appointed petty officer of the Navy may deposit his savings, in sums not less than $5, with the paymaster upon whose books his account is borne; and he shall be furnished with a deposit book, in which the said paymaster shall note, over his signature, the amount, date, and place of such deposit. The money so deposited shall be accounted for in the same manner as other public funds, and shall pass to the credit of the appropriation for "Pay of the Navy", and shall not be subject to forfeiture by sentence of court-martial, but shall be forfeited by desertion, and shall not be permitted to be paid until final payment on discharge, or to the heirs or representatives of a deceased sailor, and that such deposit be exempt from liability for such sailor's debts: Provided, That the Government shall be liable for the amount deposited to the person so depositing the same.

That for any sums not less than $5 deposited for the period of six months or longer, the sailor, on his final discharge, shall be paid interest at the rate of 4 per centum per annum. (31 U. S. C. 725s (23); 34 U. S. C. 933, 934.)

GENERAL PROVISIONS—DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY

SEC. 102. No part of any appropriation made for the Navy shall be expended for any of the purposes herein provided for on account of the Navy Department at the seat of government, including personal services of civilians, except as expressly authorized by law.

SEC. 103. [No part of the appropriations made in this Act shall be available for contracts with any person, firm, or corporation to make or cause to be made with a stop watch or other time-measuring device a time study of any job of any employee; no part of the appropriations made in this Act shall be available for the salary or pay of any officer, manager, superintendent, foreman, or other person or persons having charge of the work of any employee of the United States Government while making or causing to be made with a stop watch or other time-measuring device a time study of any job of any such employee between the starting and completion thereof, or of the movements of any such employee while engaged upon such work; nor shall any] No part of the appropriations made in this Act shall be available to pay any premiums or bonus or cash reward to any employee in addition to his regular wages, except for suggestions resulting in improvements or economy in the operation of any Government plant; and no moneys herein appropriated for the Naval Establishment or made available therefor shall be used or expended under contracts hereafter made for the repair, purchase, or acquirement, by or from any private contractor, of any naval vessel, machinery, article, or articles that at the time of the proposed repair, purchase, or acquirement can be repaired, manufactured, or produced in each or any of the Government naval shipyards or arsenals of the United States, when time and facilities permit, and when, in the judgment of the Secretary, such repair, purchase, acquirement, or production would not involve an appreciable increase in cost to the Government, except when the repair, purchase, or acquirement, by or from any private contractor, would, in the opinion of the Secretary, be advantageous to the national defense.

[SEC. 104. No part of any appropriation contained in this Act shall be used directly or indirectly, except for temporary employment in case of emergency, for the payment of any civilian for services rendered by him on the Canal Zone while occupying a skilled, technical, clerical, administrative, executive, or supervisory position unless such person is a citizen of the United States of America or of the Republic of Panama: Provided, however, (1) That, notwithstanding the provision in the Act approved August 11, 1939 (53 Stat. 1409), limiting employment in the above-mentioned positions to citizens of the United States from and after the date of the approval of said Act, citizens of Panama may be employed in such positions; (2) that at no time shall the number of Panamanian citizens employed in the above-mentioned positions exceed the number of citizens of the United States so employed, if United States citizens are available in continental United States or on the Canal Zone; (3) that nothing in this Act shall prohibit the continued employment of any person who shall have rendered fifteen or more years of faithful and honorable service on the Canal Zone; (4) that in the selection of personnel for skilled, technical, administrative, clerical, supervisory, or executive positions, the controlling factors in filling these positions shall be efficiency, experience, training, and education; (5) that all citizens of Panama and the United States rendering skilled, technical, clerical, administrative, executive, or supervisory service on the Canal Zone under the terms of this Act (a) shall normally be employed not more than forty hours per week; (b) may receive as compensation equal rates of pay based upon rates paid for similar employment in continental United States plus 25 per centum; (6) this entire section shall apply only to persons employed in skilled, technical, clerical, administrative, executive, or supervisory positions on the Canal Zone directly or indirectly by any branch of the United States Government or by any corporation or company whose stock is owned wholly or in part by the United States Government: Provided further, That the President may suspend, from time to time in whole or in part, compliance with this section in time of war or national emergency if he should deem such course to be in the public interest: Provided further, That the President may, if he finds it necessary because of a shortgage of housing, suspend, for the fiscal year 1948, the application of those portions of this section which require the employment of citizens of the Republic of Panama or of the United States in skilled, technical, clerical, administrative, executive, or supervisory positions.]

SEC. [105] 104. No part of any appropriation contained in this Act shall be used to pay the salary or wages of any person who engages in a strike against the Government of the United States or who is a member of an organization of Government employees that asserts the right to strike against the Government of the United States, or who advocates, or is a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence: Provided, That for the purposes hereof an affidavit shall be considered prima facie evidence that the person making the affidavit has not contrary to the provisions of this section engaged in a strike against the Government of the United States, is not a member of an organization of Government employees that asserts the right to strike against the Government of the United States, or that such person does not advocate, and is not a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence: Provided further, That any person who engages in a strike against the Government of the United States or who is a member of an organization of Government employees that asserts the right to strike against the Government of the United States, or who advocates, or who is a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence and accepts employment the salary or wages for which are paid from any appropriation contained in this Act shall be guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both: Provided further, That the above penalty clause shall be in addition to, and not in substitution for, any other provisions of existing law.

SEC. [106] 105. No part of any money appropriated herein or included under any contract authority herein granted shall be expended for the payment of any commission on any land purchase contract in excess of 2 per centum of the purchase price.

SEC. [107] 106. The appropriations for the Naval Establishment for the fiscal year [1948] 1949 shall be available for providing transportation of naval and civilian personnel between their domiciles and places of employment as authorized by law; [a] health service program as authorized by [Public Law 658, approved August 8, 1946] law (5 U. S. C. 150); carrying out the provisions of [Executive Order Numbered 9112 of March 26, 1942,] Public Law 395, approved July 1, 1944, Public Law 119, approved July 2, 1945[, Public Law 277, approved December 28, 1945 (except as otherwise specifically provided for)], and Public Law 457, approved October 3, 1944; expenses authorized in Public Law 99, approved June 29, 1943; expenses including those heretofore incurred incident to the operation by the Navy of private plants taken over at the direction of the President, and the Secretary may designate any naval appropriation to be charged with such expenses, proper adjustments to be made on the basis of final costs between applicable appropriations; payment of rewards, as authorized by law, for information leading to the discovery of missing naval property or the recovery thereof.

SEC. [108] 107. Appropriations in this Act shall be available for the pay of missing or captured civilian or naval personnel under the provisions of Public Law 490, approved March 7, 1942, as amended, and for that which accrued during prior years and was not paid, including accruals of pay authorized by law for retired and reserve officers, nurses, enlisted personnel, and family allowances.

SEC. [109] 108. During the fiscal year [1948] 1949 the Secretary is authorized to procure [intermittent] services in accordance with section 15 of the Act of August 2, 1946 ([Public Law 600] 5 U. S. C. 55a), but at rates for individuals not in excess of $50 per day.

SEC. [110] 109. Provisions of law prohibiting the payment of compensation to or employment of any person not a citizen of the United States shall not apply to personnel under the Naval Establishment during the fiscal year ending June 30, [1948] 1949.

SEC. [111] 110. The appropriations for the Navy Department and the naval service for the fiscal year ending June 30, [1948] 1949, shall be available for expenses in connection with the transfer to the United States of foreign vessels, including pay, subsistence, transportation, and repatriation of alien crews.

SEC. [112] 111. None of the funds appropriated in this Act for the Navy Department and the naval service for the fiscal year ending June 30, [1948] 1949, other than funds for which reimbursement is made hereunder, shall be available for any expenses for care,

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

INTRODUCTION

In order to provide a more comprehensive comparison of the financing of postal service operations as it relates to the use of the postal revenue and general revenue, the above table includes a section on "Annual appropriation out of the general fund of the Treasury." The amounts set forth in that section of the table are supported by a schedule under the head of "Deficiency in postal revenues," following the part of this chapter devoted to appropriations out of postal revenues.

PROGRAM

Postwar restoration of postal services has been accomplished to the extent that appropriations have permitted under rising price levels. Many of the essential services are still on a minimal basis in the face of continued increases in the volume of all classes of mail, including an unprecedented volume of parcel mail stemming largely from public selection of the lower rates offered by the postal service.

The Department has been unable to obtain replacement of its war-worn vehicles and mail bags. Plans for orderly economical replacement are now being devised. To a limited extent these estimates constitute an additional step toward a complete renewal of the truck fleet, recognizing the acute public demand for similar equipment. The Department has requested authorizing legislation for the expansion of existing plant for the manufacture and repair of mail bags and locks.

MAIL VOLUME AND POSTAL EXPENDITURES

The estimates of mail volume, on the basis of which these budget estimates were prepared, forecast a 3.7 percent increase in volume in the current fiscal year compared with 1947, and an additional rise of 2.15 percent in 1949 over 1948. A study of the relationships since 1944 of mail volume to the productive man-hours required to handle it reveals an encouraging trend in the operation of the postal service.

Due to the continued increases in mail volume in excess of all expectations, the estimated expenditures for the operation of the postal service in 1948 have been revised upward to $1,694,456,849, or $88,523,299 in excess of the amount appropriated to date. Further acceleration of current trends in postal business would require even higher adjustments. Therefore, the estimate for 1949 of $1,710,644,500 may prove to be an understatement of requirements if the mail volume increases over the amounts on which these estimates are based.

The estimates of appropriation for 1949 exceed the revised estimates for 1948 by 0.87 percent. Increases for personal services in 1948 and 1949 reflect the continuing effects of the Postal Reclassification Act of 1945 (Public Law 134) which provided a greater number of grades of automatic promotions to postal field personnel. Additional amounts have been included in these estimates to meet the unabsorbed cost of such promotions and to provide additional manpower to handle the estimated increased volume of business.

The estimates of appropriation for transporting the mails, represented by payments to common carriers at rates established by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Civil Aeronautics Board, are based on mail pay units such as railroad car space, pound- or ton-miles, numbers of trips, etc., related to the estimated mail volume in the different classes of mail. Volume in excess of that estimated in this budget will increase the requirement for appropriations to meet the increased cost. The mail transportation rates that were in force in July 1947 have been used in establishing the amounts required for 1948 and 1949.

The expanding volume of business and rising prices have made it necessary to include additional amounts at July 1947 price levels for rents, services, and supplies. Provision at current prices for the purchase of 2,000 trucks in 1949 has been included.

While no amount has been included for the construction and equipment of the much needed extension to the mail equipment shops in Washington, D. C., prompt enactment of authorizing legislation now pending will permit its early consideration. Estimated savings from manufacturing and repairing mail bags needed by the postal service would soon return the investment.

DEFICIENCY IN POSTAL REVENUE

Estimated postal revenue for 1948 has been revised upward to $1,368,905,000, and at that amount it will be insufficient to meet postal expenditures by $325,551,849. Postal revenue as now estimated for 1948 is about 5.43 percent over 1947, and for 1949 the estimate is $1,384,732,000, or 1.16 percent above that for 1948. It will be insufficient to meet postal expenditures by $325,912,500 for 1949.

The most significant increases in postal volume have been in second-, third-, and fourth-class mail and special services. Since those classes of business cost more to handle than the revenue they produce, increases in the volume handled will be directly reflected in increases in the deficiency in postal revenue.

Since December 1946 the Interstate Commerce Commission has approved two increases in rates of shipments made by railway express companies. The first increase approved in December 1946 provided a minimum rate of 65 cents per parcel. This action caused a significant shift of express package volume to parcel post. The second increase was authorized in September 1947, and it is reasonable to expect similar results from this action.

There is now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission a petition filed by over 200 railroad companies requesting an increase in the rates of pay for mail transportation. Further, the Civil Aeronautics Board has advised that they will approve significant increases to air carriers in foreign and domestic service. If these mail rates are approved, there will be a corresponding increase in the deficiency in postal revenue. While no amount has been included in 1949 to care for transportation rate increases, if the increases requested by the railroads are authorized, it is estimated that additional cost in 1949 will be approximately $69,000,000. If all of the increases requested by air carriers are approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board, it is estimated that the additional cost of this class of service in 1949 will be $46,000,000.

The estimated appropriation for the Second Assistant Postmaster General, who administers mail transport, reflects an apparent reduction of $26,687,443 for 1949 compared to 1948. The amounts for these years are not comparable since the present appropriations for 1948 included amounts to cover part of the cost in 1948 of the anticipated increases in rates to air carriers. No provision has been made in 1948 for anticipated increases in rates to railroads. The additional amount to meet the total contingent cost for rail and air transportation for 1948 is estimated at $75,000,000.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

GENERAL STATEMENT

The Department of State is the principal agency of Government responsible under the President for determining foreign policy and conducting foreign relations. The Department must assure that all aspects of foreign policy are developed in harmony with total national policy, and that they are properly enunciated and implemented through normal diplomatic channels as well as through international organizations and other avenues of international intercourse. The work of the Department includes extensive negotiations with foreign countries, development of measures for the protection of American citizens and interests abroad, promotion of friendly relations between the United States and other countries, and operation of our diplomatic missions throughout the world.

The growing importance of this Nation's role in postwar world recovery and its leadership in the adoption of measures to insure a peaceful world have resulted in increased emphasis on our active participation in international organizations. The foreign policy of the United States will continue to be directed toward the implementation of the charter of the United Nations and the related charters and constitutions of the several specialized international organizations. Closely allied with the interest of the United States in the United Nations is the development of a unified Inter-American system, the general reorganization of which is expected to occur during the coming fiscal year. Foreign information and education programs are planned to operate on a somewhat increased scale and to continue as integral aspects of our foreign relations program.

DEPARTMENT SERVICE

Estimated appropriations required for the Department Service in fiscal year 1949 are approximately $12 million under funds appropriated in 1948. Approximately $9.4 million of this reduction is accounted for by the proposed transfer of functions to other subheads of the Department's budget. The remaining $2.6 million chiefly results from the omission of an appropriation in 1949 for the disposal of surplus property abroad. The disposal of the bulk of such surpluses will be completed by June 30, 1948. Legislation is now being prepared for submission to Congress which will permit the transfer of residual foreign disposal activities to other agencies having specialized interests in remaining inventories. The estimates contemplate the continuation of regular Department activities at about their current level.

FOREIGN SERVICE

The Foreign Service of the United States is the instrument through which the Secretary of State maintains permanent representation abroad in the discharge of his responsibilities to the President for the conduct of foreign relations.

The budget under this head reflects a reduction of approximately $22 million from funds available in 1948 after considering transferred functions and activities in the approximate amount of $1.6 million. The remainder of $20.4 million is principally composed of approximately $16.5 million in appropriations for Foreign Service buildings due to a decreasing program; $2,250,000 in emergency funds which will not be required in 1949; and $1.4 million reflecting general reductions in operating costs.

Digitized for FRASER

Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

This budget anticipates that the total work load of the Foreign Service will continue at about the 1948 level, but that there will be some shifts in operations. It provides funds for the promotion and protection of American trade abroad, political and economic reporting, and consular work, including the issuance of visas and the relief and repatriation of United States nationals. Provision is also made for opening 22 additional foreign posts to make a total of 295 posts and 27 consular agencies.

INTERNATIONAL ACTIVITIES

International activities, including for the first time under this head estimates for the foreign information program, will require $76,378,916.

Costs of United States participation in international organizations have increased, keeping pace with the expanded programs of those organizations. The apparent estimated decrease from 1948 in appropriations for this purpose reflects the fact that the second year's budget of the International Refugee Organization is not determined. A substantial contribution to this agency will be required in 1949 and a tentative estimate is carried in another part of this Budget.

The primary task of the information program is to support United States foreign policy by informing the peoples of the world as to the objectives and way of life of this country. The 1949 budget for this program is to meet in part these needs of our foreign policy until the Congress has had an opportunity to determine the type and level of this Government's foreign information program. For this program, $18,461,000 is estimated, including $15,691,000 for program operations and $2,770,000 for administrative expenses. This amount represents an increase of $5,853,653 above the funds available in 1948. The estimate anticipates some strengthening of the field service and small personnel increases in the United States to support the field activities in the motion picture, exchange of persons and libraries programs. Radio, press, and publications operations will be continued at their present levels.

The amount of $5.1 million is included to carry on the cooperative scientific and cultural program with the other American Republics. This program, which is based upon treaties, resolutions, declarations, and recommendations previously signed by the American Republics, affords a practical method for the demonstration of Inter-American solidarity and friendship.

The cash appropriation of $21,373,000 proposed herein for Philippine rehabilitation is limited to funds required for actual expenditure. In the case of the parts of this program involving the reconstruction of public buildings and public roads in the Philippines, where obligations will be substantially larger than expenditures, additional provision in the form of contract authorization ($14 million) and obligation authority ($12.4 million) is required.

The sum of $2,770,100 is estimated for the work of the International Boundary and Water Commission, including continuing engineering, maintenance, and construction activities under international treaties with Mexico, and represents a $2,204,900 reduction from 1948 appropriations.

Cooperation With the American Republics—

Cooperation with the American Republics: For expenses necessary to enable the Secretary of State to meet the obligations of the United States under the Convention for the Promotion of Inter-American Cultural Relations between the United States and the other American Republics, signed at Buenos Aires, December 23, 1936, and to carry out the purposes of the Act entitled "An Act to authorize the President to render closer and more effective the relationship between the American Republics", approved August 9, 1939 (22 U. S. C. 501), and to supplement appropriations available for carrying out other provisions of law authorizing related activities, including the establishment and operation of agricultural and other experiment and demonstration stations in other American countries, on land acquired by gift or lease for the duration of the experiments and demonstrations, and construction of necessary buildings thereon; such expenses to include personal services in the District of Columbia; not to exceed [$150,000] $160,000 for printing and binding; temporary services as authorized by section 15 of the Act of August 2, 1946 ([Public Law 600] 5 U. S. C. 55a); not to exceed [$5,000] $15,000 for entertainment; not to exceed $5,000 for expenses of attendance at meetings or conventions of societies and associations concerned with the furtherance of the purposes hereof; and, under such regulations as the Secretary of State may prescribe, tuition, compensation, allowances and enrollment, laboratory, insurance, and other fees incident to training, including traveling expenses in the United States and abroad in accordance with the Standardized Government Travel Regulations and the Act of June 3, 1926, as amended, of educational, professional, and artistic leaders, and professors, students, internes, and persons possessing special scientific or other technical qualifications, who are citizens of the United States or the other American Republics; and the actual expenses of preparing and transporting to their former homes the remains of such persons, not United States Government employees, who may die while away from their homes under the authority of this appropriation: Provided, That the Secretary of State is authorized under such regulations as he may adopt, to pay the actual transportation expenses and not to exceed $10 per diem in lieu of subsistence and other expenses, of citizens of the other American Republics while traveling in the Western Hemisphere, without regard to the Standardized Government Travel Regulations, and to make advances of funds notwithstanding section 3648 of the Revised Statutes as amended by the Act of August 2, 1946, Public Law 600; traveling expenses of members of advisory committees in accordance with section 2 of said Act of August 9, 1939; purchase (not to exceed seven) and hire of passenger motor vehicles; rental of boats, [$3,900,000] $5,100,000; and the Secretary of State, or such official as he may designate is hereby authorized, in his discretion, and, subject to the approval of the President, to transfer from this appropriation to other departments, agencies, and independent establishments of the Government for expenditure in the United States and in the other American Republics any part of this amount for direct expenditure by such department or independent establishment for the purposes of this appropriation and any such expenditures may be made under the specific authority herein contained or under the authority governing the activities of the department, agency, or independent establishment to which amounts are transferred: Provided further, That this appropriation shall be available to make contracts with, and grants of money or property to, nonprofit institutions in the United States and the other American Republics, including the distribution of materials and other services in the fields of education and travel, arts and sciences, publications, the radio, the press, and the cinema. (Convention of Dec. 23, 1936, 51 Stat. 178; 5 U. S. C. 118e; 22 U. S. C. 501, 502; Departments of State, Justice and Commerce, and the Judiciary Appropriation Act, 1948.)

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

GENERAL STATEMENT

The Treasury Department was created by act of Congress, approved September 2, 1789, to superintend and manage the national finances. This act charged the Secretary of the Treasury with the preparation of plans for the improvement and management of the revenue and the support of the public credit. He was empowered to grant, subject to the limitations of the amended act, all warrants for money to be issued from the Treasury pursuant to legal appropriations, and to furnish information, upon request, to either or both branches of Congress on any matter referred to him or pertaining to his office. The act further stated it to be the duty of the Secretary "generally to perform all such services relative to the finances as he shall be directed to perform."

Many subsequent acts have figured in the development of the Department, delegating new duties to its charge and establishing the several bureaus, offices, and divisions which now compose the Treasury.

The principal operating functions of the Treasury Department may be grouped under 11 major headings: policy formulation and departmental administration; collection of internal revenue; collecting the revenue from customs; management of the public debt; receipt, custody, disbursement of, and accounting for public moneys; supervision of national banks; manufacture of currency, coins, United States securities, blank checks, postage and revenue stamps, and custody of gold and silver; protection of the President of the United States and his family, the President-elect, United States securities, and negotiable instruments; protection of life and property, law enforcement, installation and maintenance of aids to navigation, and merchant marine safety; Federal narcotic control; and procurement, custody, and distribution of supplies, materials, and equipment for Federal agencies.

ESTIMATES OF APPROPRIATION FOR 1949

The Treasury's estimates of appropriation for the fiscal year 1949 under general and special accounts, exclusive of interest on the public debt, aggregate $2,790,890,700 as compared with appropriations for similar purposes of $2,600,770,100 for 1948, or an increase of $190,120,600. This increase results primarily from added requirements for strategic and critical materials, capital for the general supply fund, the fund for payment of Government losses in shipment, and customs refunds and drawbacks. These items of increase are partially offset by decreases in the requirements for refunds under the Renegotiation Act, refunding of internal revenue collections, and reduction of operating expenses of the administrative offices of the Secretary, the Bureau of the Public Debt, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the Bureau of the Mint, and comparatively small amounts in other offices.

DEPARTMENTAL ADMINISTRATION

The Office of the Secretary of the Treasury furnishes over-all supervision for the Department, formulates policies, develops programs, and coordinates fiscal, administrative, and budgetary methods, practices, and procedures. Included under this head are the Office of the Secretary, Office of General Counsel, Office of International Finance, Division of Tax Research, Office of the Technical Staff, United States Savings Bonds Division, Office of Contract Settlement, Division of Personnel, Office of Administrative Services, requirements for meeting the cost of penalty mail for the entire Department, and miscellaneous financial items. The annual appropriations recommended for the administrative offices of the Secretary for the fiscal year 1949 total $11,956,400 as compared with $16,867,000 appropriated for the current year, or a reduction of $4,910,600. This amount represents a reduction of $4,250,000 in refunds under Renegotiation Act and the balance in normal operating expenses.

MANAGEMENT OF THE PUBLIC DEBT

The Bureau of the Public Debt has supervision over the issue, servicing, and retirement of United States Government obligations. The estimates of appropriation for 1949 for this Bureau, aggregating $54,513,200, constitute a reduction of $11,760,800 under the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1948. Funds have been included, however, for accelerated operations in connection with the promotion of the sale of United States savings bonds as part of the general plan to combat inflation. The trend in the sale and redemption of these securities is indicated below:

Fiscal year	Bonds issued	Bonds redeemed
1945	307, 966, 900	139, 839, 000
1946	150, 147, 300	196, 103, 600
1947	75, 181, 000	126, 779, 000

RECEIPT, CUSTODY, DISBURSEMENT OF, AND ACCOUNTING FOR PUBLIC MONEYS

The Bureau of Accounts and the Office of the Treasurer of the United States are responsible for the receipt, safekeeping, and disbursement of Government funds and related accounting functions. The estimates of appropriation recommended for these organizations for the fiscal year 1949 total $19,108,000 as compared with $18,695,000 appropriated for the current year, or an increase of $413,000. Additional requirements of $325,000 to cover payments for Government losses in shipment and $200,000 for certified claims of $500 or less are partially offset by reductions in other normal operating expenses. The Treasurer expects to clear 245,486,000 checks in 1949 as compared with 260,610,000 currently estimated for 1948.

COLLECTION OF REVENUE

The Bureau of Internal Revenue and the Bureau of Customs are responsible for collecting substantially all of the Government's revenue. The annual appropriations recommended for the Bureau of Internal Revenue for the fiscal year 1949 total $2,156,004,500 as compared with estimated requirements of $2,219,003,500 for 1948, or a decrease of $62,999,000. This decrease is reflected in the payment of refunds of internal revenue collections and primarily indicates a reduction in the amount required for corporate funds.

The estimates of appropriation for the fiscal year 1949 for the Bureau of Customs aggregate $50,150,000, an increase of $2,130,000 above the amount appropriated for 1948. The change results from an increase in the estimated requirements for refunds and drawbacks of customs receipts in the amount of $3,000,000, offset in part by anticipated reductions in normal operating expenses of $870,000.

MANUFACTURE OF CURRENCY AND COIN

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing and the Bureau of the Mint are concerned with the designing, engraving, and printing of United States currency, bonds, checks, stamps, etc., and the manufacture of coins, respectively.

The annual appropriations requested for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing for the fiscal year 1949 aggregate $12,830,000 as compared with $13,655,000, estimated requirements for 1948, or a decrease of $825,000 in the United States currency program.

The estimates of appropriation for 1949 for the Bureau of the Mint amount to $4,696,000 as compared with $6,467,500 appropriated for the current year, or a reduction of $1,771,500. It is estimated that 800 million coins will be produced in 1949. This production compares with 2,016 million coins minted in 1947 and an estimated 800 million to be minted in 1948.

PROTECTION OF UNITED STATES SECURITIES AND NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS

The United States Secret Service is responsible for the protection of the President of the United States and his family, the President-elect, and the enforcement of certain laws relating to the protection of United States securities and negotiable instruments. The estimates of appropriation recommended for the Secret Service for the fiscal year 1949 total $2,819,600 as compared with estimated requirements of $2,824,100 for 1948, or a decrease of $4,500. Increases are to combat counterfeiting and for the increased number of investigations which must be made of forgeries of veterans' checks and checks and bonds issued pursuant to the Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946, as amended. These are more than offset by reductions in requirements for guards.

PROTECTION OF LIFE AND PROPERTY

The Coast Guard, in peacetime, is responsible for the protection of life and property along the coast of the United States, the installation and maintenance of aids to navigation, merchant marine safety, and the enforcement of related laws. The estimates of appropriation requested for the United States Coast Guard for 1949 aggregate $105,759,000 as compared with $106,050,000 appropriated for the fiscal year 1948, or a decrease of $291,000. If authorizing legislation is enacted, a supplemental estimate in the amount of $13,000,000 is anticipated for 1949 to enable the Coast Guard to establish and operate seven and one-half weather stations in the Atlantic in accordance with the terms of the agreement made under the Convention of the International Civil Aviation Conference.

FEDERAL NARCOTIC CONTROL

The Bureau of Narcotics is responsible for the enforcement of Federal narcotic laws. The annual appropriation recommended for the Bureau of Narcotics for the fiscal year 1949 totals $1,434,000, which is the same amount as was appropriated for 1948.

PROCUREMENT

The Bureau of Federal Supply is responsible for the procurement, custody, and distribution of supplies, materials, and equipment for Federal agencies. The estimates recommended for the Bureau of Federal Supply for 1949 amount to $371,620,000 as compared with $101,480,000 appropriated for the fiscal year 1948, or an increase of $270,140,000. Of this increase, $260,000,000 is required for the strategic and critical materials program, $10,000,000 is for the purpose of increasing the capital of the general supply fund from $8,000,000 to $18,000,000, and the balance is requested to defray administrative expenses relating to the processing of net renegotiation rebates under the Renegotiation Act.

PERMANENT APPROPRIATIONS

In addition to the regular annual appropriations described above, permanent appropriations aggregating $5,253,105,083 are recommended for the Treasury Department for the fiscal year 1949. Of the total for permanent appropriations, $5,250,000,000 is for the payment of interest on the public debt, and the balance of $3,105,083 is for interest on Philippine deposits and for the Pershing Hall Memorial fund.

STATUTORY PUBLIC DEBT RETIREMENTS

The $6?4,763,000 estimated to be appropriated for 1949 is $193,746,810 less than was appropriated for 1948, due to the availability in that year of War Damage Corporation earnings for the retirement of the public debt.

TRUST ACCOUNTS

The estimates of appropriation for trust accounts for 1949 are slightly greater than the appropriations for 1948. Increased receipts during 1949 are expected in both the Federal old-age and survivors insurance trust fund and the unemployment trust fund.

Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund—

Under the provisions of section 201, title II, of the Social Security Act amendments of 1939, approved August 10, 1939, there was created on the books of the Treasury of the United States a trust fund known as the "Federal old-age and survivors insurance trust fund," consisting of the securities held by the Secretary of the Treasury for the "Old age reserve account" and the amount standing to the credit of the "Old age reserve account" on the books of the Treasury on January 1, 1940, and, in addition, such amounts as may be appropriated to the trust fund as provided in the act. The act appropriates to the trust fund for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1941, and for each fiscal year thereafter, amounts equivalent to 100 percent of the taxes (including interest, penalties, and additions to the taxes) received under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act and covered into the Treasury, with the further provision that the trust fund shall repay to the general fund of the Treasury the amount required by the Social Security Board and the Treasury Department to administer title II and title VIII of the act and the Federal Insurance Contributions Act. COAST GUARD

Salaries and Expenses, Coast Guard—

For all salaries and expenses of the Coast Guard, [$100,000,000] $93,132,500, together with $620,000 to be transferred from the Coast Guard supply account fund: Provided, That no part of this appropriation shall be used to pay any enlisted man of the Coast Guard while detailed for duty at Coast Guard headquarters if such detail increases above thirty the total number of enlisted men detailed to such duty at any time: Provided further, That no part of this appropriation shall be used for increased pay for making aerial flights by nonflying officers or observers at rates in excess of those prescribed by law for the Army, which shall be the legal maximum rates as to such nonflying officers or observers: Provided further, That expenditures out of the foregoing appropriation shall not exceed the limitations set forth in the following categories, namely:

Office of Commandant: For personal services at the seat of government, not to exceed [$2,000,000] $2,014,708;

Pay and allowances: For pay and allowances prescribed by law for commissioned officers, cadets, warrant officers, petty officers, and other enlisted personnel, on active [and retired, temporary cooks, surfmen, substitute surfmen] duty, and six civilian instructors; [retired pay for certain members of the former Life Saving Service authorized by the Act approved April 14, 1930 (14 U. S. C. 178a);] not exceeding $10,000 for cash prizes for men for excellence in boatmanship, gunnery, target practice, and engineering competitions; transportation of dependents of Coast Guard personnel on active duty and retired and Reserve officers and of retired and Reserve enlisted personnel, of grades entitled to transportation of dependents in the Regular Coast Guard, when ordered to active duty (other than training) and upon relief therefrom; carrying out the provisions of the Act of June 4, 1920 (34 U. S. C. 943); not to exceed $20,000 for cost of [special] instruction of officers at non-Federal institutions, including books, laboratory equipment and fees, school supplies, and maintenance of students; motion-picture and other equipment for instructional purposes; rations or commutation thereof for cadets, petty officers, other enlisted personnel, [and] members of the Coast Guard Auxiliary when assigned specific duties under the provisions of section 8, Act of February 19, 1941, as amended (14 U. S. C. 267), working parties in the field, and officers and crews of light vessels and tenders (14 U. S. C. 135); mileage and expenses allowed by law for officers, including per diem rates of allowance, and the Secretary is hereby authorized to prescribe per diem rates of allowance for Public Health Service officers detailed to the Coast Guard as authorized for Coast Guard officers; [actual and necessary expenses or per diem in lieu thereof as the Secretary may determine and approve for Coast Guard personnel on special duty in foreign countries;] traveling expenses of other persons traveling on duty under orders from the Treasury Department, including transportation of cadets, enlisted personnel, and applicants for enlistment, with subsistence and transfers en route, or cash in lieu thereof; transportation in kind and subsistence to discharged cadets; uniform clothing for enlisted men as provided by law (14 U. S. C. 13); clothing for enlisted personnel authorized by law; civilian clothing, including an overcoat when necessary, the cost of all not to exceed $30 per person to enlisted personnel given discharges for bad conduct, undesirability, unsuitability, or inaptitude; reimbursement in kind or in cash as authorized by law to persons in the Coast Guard for personal property lost, destroyed, or damaged; actual expenses of officers and cadets and quarters and subsistence of enlisted personnel on shore patrol, emergency shore detail and other detached duty, or cash in lieu thereof; hire of quarters for officers serving with troops where sufficient quarters are not possessed by the United States to accommodate them; hire of quarters for Coast Guard personnel comparable to quarters assignable on a capital ship of the Navy, as authorized by the Secretary to meet emergency conditions, including officers and men on sea duty at such times as they may be deprived of their quarters on board ship due to repairs or other conditions which may render them uninhabitable: Provided, That under this authorization no funds may be expended for the hire of quarters for occupancy by the dependents of officers or enlisted personnel; expenses of recruiting for the Coast Guard; advertising for and obtaining enlisted personnel and applicants for appointment as cadets; training of enlisted personnel, including textbooks, school supplies, and correspondence courses; transfer of household goods and effects of Coast Guard and Coast Guard Reserve personnel on active duty and when ordered to active duty and upon relief therefrom, and the transfer of household goods and effects of deceased Coast Guard and Coast Guard Reserve personnel who die while on active duty, as prescribed by law and regulations; [transportation on Government-owned vessels of privately owned automobiles of Coast Guard personnel upon change of station;] purchase of provisions for sale to Coast Guard personnel at isolated stations, and the appropriation reimbursed; and including not to exceed [$50,000] $156,000 for recreation, amusement, comfort, contentment, and health of the enlisted personnel of the Coast Guard, to be expended pursuant to regulations prescribed by the Secretary; apprehension and delivery of deserters and stragglers (14 U. S. C. 147); in all, not to exceed [$72,000,000] $64,929,189: Provided, [That money accruing from commutation of rations of enlisted personnel commuted for the benefit of any mess may be paid on proper voucher to the officer in charge of such mess: Provided further,] That whenever commissioned officers of the Coast Guard, who were civilian employees of the former Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, resume their status as civilian employees of the Coast Guard, or whenever civilian employees of the Coast Guard, who were employed in the former Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, are commissioned as officers of the Coast Guard, the limitation provided for "Civilian Employees, Coast Guard" and "Office of the Commandant" may be exceeded, with the approval of the Bureau of the Budget, by the amount of their pay as civilian employees and the limitation provided for "Pay and allowances" reduced in a like amount or vice versa, as the case may be;

General expenses, Coast Guard: For expenses necessary for the operation and maintenance of the Coast Guard ashore and afloat, except as specifically provided for in other [appropriations] limitations under this appropriation, including personal services [at the seat of government and elsewhere]; [contract stenographic reporting] services[, pursuant to] as authorized by section 15 of the Act of August 2, 1946 ([Public Law 600] 5 U. S. C. 55a); printing and binding; purchase of [fifty-eight] thirty-five passenger motor vehicles for replacement only, and maintenance, operation, and repair of aircraft; improvement of property for Coast Guard purposes, including rental, purchase, or use of additional land where necessary and the purchase of land for beacons, daymarks, and fog signals; [rations and provisions, or commutation thereof, for working parties in the field, officers and crews of light vessels and tenders, and officials and other authorized persons of the Coast Guard on duty on board such tenders or vessels, but money accruing from commutation of rations and provisions for the above-named persons on board tenders and light vessels or in working parties in the field may be paid on proper voucher to the person having charge of the mess of such vessel or party;] subsistence and clothing for shipwrecked and destitute persons, including reimbursement, under rules prescribed by the Secretary, of Coast Guard personnel who furnish from their personal stock subsistence and clothing to such persons (33 U. S. C. 749); for payment of claims authorized under [section 1 of Public Law 277, Seventy-ninth Congress] the act of December 28, 1945, as amended [by Public Law 327, Seventy-ninth Congress] (31 U. S. C. 222g); not to exceed $2,500 for contingencies for the Superintendent, United States Coast Guard Academy, to be expended in his discretion (14 U. S. C. 15k); payment of rewards for the apprehension and conviction, or for information helpful therein, of persons found interfering in violation of law with aids to navigation maintained by the Coast Guard (14 U. S. C. 50c); in all, not to exceed [$29,700,000] $23,050,011: Provided, That the number of aircraft on hand at any one time shall not exceed one hundred and ten exclusive of planes and parts stored to meet future attrition;

Civilian employees, Coast Guard: For compensation of civilian employees in the field, including per diem labor, but excluding personnel provided for in the [appropriation] limitation "General expenses, Coast Guard", not to exceed [$3,600,000] $3,758,592;

[Establishing and improving aids to navigation: For establishing and improving aids to navigation and other works, and for expenditures directly relating thereto, not to exceed $2,300,000;]

[Acquisition of aircraft, vessels and shore facilities: For the purchase or construction of additional and replacement vessels and their equipment; the purchase of aircraft and their equipment; and the construction, rebuilding, or extension of shore facilities, including the acquisition of sites and improvements thereon when specifically approved by the Secretary, and rental of shore facilities for temporary use; in all, not to exceed $2,300,000: Provided, That not to exceed 4 per centum of the amount of this limitation shall be available for administrative expenses in connection therewith, including personal services at the seat of government;]

[Retired pay, former Lighthouse Service, Coast Guard: For retired pay of certain officers and employees entitled thereto by virtue of former employment in the Lighthouse Service engaged in

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

General Statement

The District of Columbia constitutes a political entity in which are exercised not only municipal but also county and State functions, such as public education, administration of justice, maintenance of a unit of the National Guard, promotion of family welfare, care of the indigent, custody of mental defectives and delinquents, protection of the interests of labor, metropolitan area planning, etc. While the municipal functions are administered principally by the Board of Commissioners, District of Columbia, most of the county and State functions are carried on by other agencies, some local and some Federal in character.

In contrast to this diversity in the administration of District functions under the Constitution, Congress is empowered "to exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever" on behalf of the District of Columbia as the seat of government of the United States. Congress acts in municipal matters as a city council, and in dealing with the broader aspects of the local government, as a county board and a State legislature. In this connection, Congress enacts the District's revenue measures and appropriates the money thus raised to carry on the government of the District of Columbia. District revenues from all sources are covered into the United States Treasury and credited either to the general fund, the highway fund, the water fund, or a trust fund, and no expenditure can be made from any of these funds, other than trust funds, without specific appropriation by Congress.

Under the law, the District estimates of appropriation are submitted to the Bureau of the Budget for incorporation in the Budget of the United States. The Bureau, however, does not examine the estimates of the District in minute detail, but confines its attention more to matters of policy which concern the Federal Government and present and proposed revenue measures required to balance the District budget.

The estimates of revenues for the general, highway, water, and trust funds are found in supporting statement No. 1. Estimates of appropriations for the same funds are shown in supporting statement No. 2. Attention is also directed to the summary table at the beginning of this chapter.

General Fund

Revenues accruing to the general fund of the District of Columbia are used to finance the administrative offices, schools, libraries, health, recreation, sanitation, welfare, corrections, certain public works, and other operating activities. These revenues are realized from real, personal, and other property taxes; sales and gross receipts; taxes on alcoholic beverages, business privileges, insurance, public utilities, and other business; licenses and permits; individual and corporation income taxes; inheritance and estate taxes; certain earnings and miscellaneous revenues; and the Federal contribution. The largest item of revenue in the general fund comes from realty and personal property taxes and, including proposed new taxes, amounts to approximately 46 percent of the total. The levy is based on an estimated assessed valuation of $1,868,000,000, taxed at the rate of $2 per $100. The estimated valuation is $53 million higher in 1949 than for the current year. The Federal payment is estimated at $12 million, which is the same amount as was appropriated in fiscal year 1948. Of this amount, $11 million is credited to the general fund and $1 million to the water fund.

The estimate of general-fund revenues on the present tax base for the fiscal year 1949, including the Federal payment of $11 million and the sale of $2,826,583 in securities, totals $80,810,583, which amount is $6 million less than the estimated obligations for 1949. The District Commissioners have recommended that further consideration be given to the bill H. R. 2290, "to provide additional revenue for the District of Columbia," introduced in the first session of the Eightieth Congress and still pending before the Committee on the District of Columbia. This legislation would provide for new taxes on sales, and it is estimated will increase general-fund revenues by $6 million in fiscal year 1949, if enacted into law by July 1, 1948. However, it is expected that the new legislation will produce approximately $13.5 million a year when fully effective. The balancing of the general-fund budget for the fiscal year 1949, therefore, depends upon congressional approval of the new tax legislation or disapproval of a sizable part of the appropriation requests.

General-fund estimates of appropriation for 1949 show an over-all increase of approximately 5.7 percent over 1948 estimates. This increase is reflected largely in schools, welfare and corrections, health, police, compensation and retirement fund expenses, and public works programs. In addition to regular appropriations, a new contract authorization for sewers is requested.

Highway Fund

Highway-fund revenues are realized from a gasoline tax, automotive registration and weight tax, motor-vehicle fees of various types, and paving assessments. The estimated revenues from these sources for the fiscal year 1949, plus available surpluses, total $9,284,617, which will be $17,417 in excess of the estimated obligations.

Estimates of appropriation chargeable to the highway fund for 1949 show an over-all increase of only 1.3 percent over 1948 estimates. This increase is reflected largely in the Department of Vehicles and Traffic, police control of highway traffic, and operating expenses of the Street and Bridge Divisions.

Water Fund

Water-fund revenues are derived from the sale of water to residents of the District of Columbia and to Arlington County, Va.; from the Federal payment of $1 million provided for under the District of Columbia Revenue Act of 1947; from water-main assessments; from interest on investments; and from miscellaneous receipts. Total revenues for the fiscal year 1949, including surplus funds and sales of investment securities, are estimated at $6,387,000, which will balance the total estimated obligations for 1949.

The estimates of appropriation for fiscal year 1949 from the water fund amount to $6,387,000, and exceed estimates for the fiscal year 1948 by $821,000 for an increase of approximately 14.7 percent.

Capital outlays amounting to $3,197,000 account for approximately 50 percent of the fiscal year 1949 estimates, as compared with 47 percent of the 1948 estimates. These capital outlay projects will provide important improvements in the District water distribution system and the Washington Aqueduct.

GENERAL PROVISIONS—DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

SEC. 2. Vouchers in payment of obligations incurred by the Health Department and Public Welfare pursuant to the appropriations contained in this Act shall be certified as lawfully payable in the department, board, or office responsible for the incurring of the obligations; thereafter the vouchers shall be audited before payment by or under the jurisdiction only of the Auditor for the District of Columbia and the vouchers as approved may be paid by checks issued by the Disbursing Officer without countersignature.

SEC. 3. No part of any appropriation contained in this Act or authorized hereby to be expended shall be used to pay the compensation of any officer or employee of the Government of the United States, or of the District of Columbia unless such person is a citizen of the United States, or a person in the service of the United States or the District of Columbia on the date of the approval of this Act who being eligible for citizenship had theretofore filed a declaration of intention to become a citizen or who owes allegiance to the United States. This section shall not apply to citizens of the Commonwealth of the Philippines or nationals of those countries allied with the United States in the prosecution of the war effort.

SEC. 4. No part of any appropriation contained in this Act shall be used to pay the salary or wages of any person who engages in a strike against the Government of the United States or the Government of the District of Columbia or who is a member of an organization of Government employees that asserts the right to strike against the Government of the United States or the Government of the District of Columbia, or who advocates, or is a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence: Provided, That for the purposes hereof an affidavit shall be considered prima facie evidence that the person making the affidavit has not contrary to the provisions of this section engaged in a strike against the Government of the United States or the Government of the District of Columbia, is not a member of an organization of Government employees that asserts the right to strike against the Government of the United States or the Government of the District of Columbia, or that such person does not advocate, and is not a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence: Provided further, That any person who engages in a strike against the Government of the United States or the Government of the District of Columbia or who is a member of an organization of Government employees that asserts the right to strike against the Government of the United States or the Government of the District of Columbia, or who advocates, or who is a member of an organization that advocates, the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence and accepts employment the salary or wages for which are paid from any appropriation contained in this Act shall be guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both: Provided further, That the above penalty clause shall be in addition to, and not in substitution for, any other provisions of existing law.

SEC. 5. Whenever in this Act an amount is specified within an appropriation for particular purposes or object of expenditure, such amount, unless otherwise specified, shall be considered as the maximum amount which may be expended for said purpose or object rather than an amount set apart exclusively therefor.

SEC. 6. Work performed for repairs and improvements under appropriations contained in this Act may be by contract or otherwise, as determined by the Commissioners.

SEC. 7. Appropriations in this Act shall be available, when authorized by the Commissioners, for allowances for privately owned automobiles used for the performance of official duties at not to exceed $264 per annum for each automobile, unless otherwise therein specifically provided: Provided, That the total expenditures for this purpose shall not exceed [$35,000] $42,000 excluding the automobile allowances for the deportation of nonresident insane, the transportation of indigent persons, and the placing of children by the Board of Public Welfare.

SEC. 8. Appropriations in this Act shall be available for the payment of dues and expenses of attendance at meetings of organizations concerned with the work of the District of Columbia Government, when authorized by the Commissioners: Provided, That the total expenditures for this purpose shall not exceed [$3,500] $8,500.

SEC. 9. The Commissioners are hereby authorized in their discretion to invest and reinvest at any time in United States Government securities, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, any part of the general fund, highway fund, water fund, or trust funds, of the District of Columbia, not needed to meet current expenses during the fiscal year, to deposit the interest accruing from such investments to the credit of the fund from which the investment was made, and the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to sell or exchange such securities for other Government securities, and deposit the proceeds to the credit of the appropriate fund.

SEC. 10. Appropriations for necessary expenses shall be available for personal services and printing and binding and, when authorized by the Commissioners or by the purchasing officer and the auditor, acting for the Commissioners, printing and binding may be performed by the District of Columbia Division of Printing Publications without reference to fiscal-year limitations.

SEC. 11. [The limitation of $42,000 contained in section 2 of the District of Columbia Appropriation Act, 1945, is hereby increased to $55,000] Appropriations in this Act shall be available, when authorized by the Commissioners, for stenographic reporting service as authorized by section 15 of the Act of August 2, 1946 (5 U. S. C. 55a).

INTRODUCTION TO PART III

Part III contains an analysis of the budget programs of all wholly owned Government corporations, of the Federal Housing Administration, and of four unincorporated programs supervised by the Public Housing Administration of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. Net expenditures or net receipts in checking accounts with the Treasurer of the United States of these corporations and credit agencies are included in the summary tables in part I. In this section the business-type operations of these establishments are reflected in considerable detail and from a somewhat different perspective when contrasted with the financial activities of the regular administrative-type Government agency.

The contents of part III consist of a summary narrative statement for each establishment or major constituent unit describing the budget program and financial condition of the establishment, business-type financial statements, and language appropriating or authorizing the use of funds.

The financial statements present four main aspects of the budget program: (1) exhibit A, "Comparative statement of sources and application of funds," is an analysis of cash and other resources made available each fiscal year and the use made of such resources; (2) exhibit B, "Comparative statement of income and expenses," is an analysis of the accrued income and accrued expenses applicable to each fiscal year regardless of whether or not cash has been actually received or paid; (3) exhibit C, "Comparative statement of financial condition," is an analysis of the amount and type of assets owned, the liabilities owed, and the net financial equity of the Government at the end of each fiscal year; and (4) schedule A–1, "Effect on the Government budget," is an analysis of the net amount of cash (other than in trust accounts) deposited or withdrawn from the establishment's checking account with the Treasurer of the United States in each fiscal year. These statements are frequently supported by additional detail in supplementary schedules keyed to the original exhibit by letter and number thus: Schedule B–1, B–2, etc.

Generally, receipts of corporate-type agencies are available for authorized activities of such agencies without annual action by Congress although Congress usually sets limitations on the amount of corporate funds which may be used for administrative expenses. Appropriations from the Treasury are sometimes made available in addition to corporate receipts. The necessary language authorizing appropriations from the Treasury appears under the caption, "Estimates of Appropriations." The language placing limitations on the use of corporate funds appears under the caption, "Estimates of Authorizations Relating to Corporate Funds." In both cases the language is followed by schedules similar to those for regular Government-type activities shown in part II.

The major differences between the presentation of the budget programs of corporate-type agencies as contrasted to that of the usual Government-type agency are the method of accounting for transactions, the handling of cash, and the effect on the Government budget.

In order to prepare the business-type financial statements which reflect income and expenses, Government corporation accounts are kept on the accrual basis, which is in general use in private industry. Under the accrual system of accounting, liabilities are recorded in the accounts at the time materials are received or services rendered, and expenses are determined on the basis of the materials and supplies used, or applied to, a particular year. Income is recorded on the basis of the sales made and the services rendered in any particular year, even though collections may not be made until some later year. The accrual method further requires the capitalization of expenditures for fixed assets, such as buildings and equipment, with annual charges for depreciation representing the portion of the total outlay considered as expense for that year. Corporation accounting also sets up values for inventories of goods on hand. The cost of any goods sold can thus readily be determined by adjusting the cost of goods purchased by amounts representing the change in inventories during the budget period.

Agencies financed by appropriations on the other hand, in lieu of liabilities record obligations at the time the Government is legally committed to the purchase of goods or services whether or not the materials have been received or the service has been rendered; expenses are charged to the year in which the transaction first takes place even though the material may not be used until some later period; capital outlay is fully charged to the year the item is purchased or contracted for, even though its useful life extends over many subsequent years.

Another important difference between corporate type and the usual Government-type agency is in the handling of cash. Government corporations use the United States Treasurer as they would a commercial bank; some of them use commercial banks, too. The practice enables corporations to deposit their receipts with the Treasurer subject to their own check. In this way a corporation engaged in making loans can use receipts from loan repayments for disbursement to new borrowers, and a corporation engaged in selling commodities can use the proceeds of one sale to buy additional commodities for subsequent resale with a minimum of delay.

By contrast, receipts arising from the activities of noncorporate agencies, as a general rule, are deposited in the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. They are not available to the agency for subsequent disbursement unless special authority is given by law, and then only after the Treasury has credited the funds to the agency by the issuance of appropriate documents.

Finally, the effect of corporation-type transactions on the Government budget differs from that of the usual Government-type agency. Corporation-type transactions affect the Government budget only insofar as they are reflected in net transactions with the Treasury. Thus corporate funds returned to the Treasury as a repayment of capital stock or dividends or interest are treated as budgetary receipts; the net change in the checking account maintained with the Treasurer of the United States is treated as a budgetary expenditure or expenditure credit depending upon whether the balance at the end of the fiscal year is less or greater than at the beginning of the year; transactions carried on outside the Treasury system are not reflected in the regular Government budget. By contrast, agencies financed by direct appropriations pay no dividends and their expenditures and receipts are usually charged in total to budgetary expenditures or receipts.

SUMMARY NARRATIVE

The operations of wholly owned Government corporations and credit agencies, whose budgets are presented in this section of the Budget, are financed for the most part by their own receipts for services rendered or goods delivered. However, this financing is supplemented by net withdrawals from the United States Treasury which are represented in part by borrowing, in part by appropriations, and in part by drawing on cash balances held with the Treasurer of the United States. Some of these corporations and credit agencies also borrow funds from the public. These funds are contained in the trust accounts of the Treasury. The net transactions are reduced to a cash-withdrawn basis here to show the net impact on the cash position of the Treasury.

Net Withdrawals From United States Treasury

The operations of the corporations and credit agencies are carried in the Budget as budgetary receipts and expenditures except for transactions involving borrowings or repayments of borrowings to the public, which are carried as trust-account transactions. The accompanying table on net withdrawals from the United States Treasury gives a more comprehensive picture of the impact of the operations of the corporations on the cash position of the Treasury since it includes both budgetary receipts and expenditures, and transactions in the trust accounts. It omits only transactions through checking accounts with commercial banks, ordinarily of minor importance.

Net Withdrawals From U. S. Treasury by Wholly Owned Government Corporations and Credit Agencies

BY FISCAL YEARS

[In millions]

	Actual, 1947	Estimate, 1948	Estimate, 1949
Budgetary expenditures	$2,217	$18	$511
Adjustment for cancellation of notes of Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Home Owners' Loan Corporation for transfer of assets to other Government agencies		685
Total	2,217	703	511
Less budgetary receipts	880	585	383
Add net redemption of obligations to the public (trust account expenditures)	387	21	6
Net withdrawals from U. S. Treasury	1,724	139	134

In the aggregate, net withdrawals from the Treasury will amount to $134 million in the fiscal year 1949, approximately equal to the 1948 estimate, but they will be far below the $1,724 million withdrawn in 1947. Included in the net withdrawals for each year is the amount required for the redemption of obligations of the corporations to the public. The other net withdrawals are made for a number of reasons. In 1947 there was a continued high level of international loans, completion of most food subsidy payments, advances by the Commodity Credit Corporation under the contract to purchase Cuban sugar, and expenditures in connection with prior year contracts dealing with war activities by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. In 1948, although international loans by the Export-Import Bank are at a relatively high level, the liquidation of some of the war plants and receipts in excess of expenditures for procurement of agricultural commodities will reduce the net withdrawals for these purposes to $118 million. Also it should be noted that there was a transfer in 1948 of $685 million of liquidating assets from Reconstruction Finance Corporation to other Government agencies. In 1949 there will be a slight reduction in the amount of international loans and a continued liquidation of war activities but receipts from the latter will not be sufficient to offset the relatively high international loans still being made. Domestic loans made during these years will about equal repayments.

Sources and Application of Funds

Most corporation programs involve a considerable turnover of funds. The total volume of corporation activity will be on a reduced scale compared to 1947. The total funds applied in 1947 of $13,103 million will be reduced to an estimated $10,261 million in 1948. In 1949 the amount will be further reduced to $8,930 million. Although the statement shown here reflects $18,264 million, it contains cancellations of notes in the amount of $9,334 million, thereby inflating the total figure. Apart from the changes in capital and debt operations, this decline in total funds applied reflects a decrease in construction of fixed assets (mostly liquidation of war plants contracts) from $431 million in 1947 to $82 million in 1949. Loans made will also decline in 1948 but will increase in 1949. Operating costs, including costs of commodities, direct operating expenses, and subsidies show a decided drop for 1948 and 1949. Costs of commodities sold, representing primarily procurement of agricultural commodities for foreign relief and cash-paying foreign governments and procurement of strategic materials, are anticipated to drop from $3,386 million in 1947 to $2,635 million in 1949. Other operating costs, including agents' costs for operating war plants, will be reduced from $548 million in 1947 to $314 million in 1949. Subsidies drop sharply from $206 million in 1947 to an estimated $6 million in 1949.

SOURCE AND APPLICATION OF FUNDS—Continued

[In millions]

	Actual, 1947	Estimate, 1948	Estimate, 1949
FUNDS PROVIDED
By realization of assets:
By repayment of loans	$2,037	$2,211	$2,726
By sales of investments	134	90	58
By sales of fixed assets, etc	547	189	178
By transfer of assets to other agencies for cancellation of notes due U. S. Treasury		685
By operating income	4,017	3,549	2,985
By borrowing and capital:
By borrowing from U. S. Treasury	3,545	1,758	1,670
By borrowing from the public	844	915	999
By new capital and paid-in surplus	351	14	10
By appropriation	65	69	39
By cancellation of notes due U. S. Treasury	1,563	10	9,334
By decrease in working capital		771	265
Total	13,103	10,261	18,264

Sale of investments, although declining, will exceed the purchase of new investments. On the other hand, repayments of loans, although increasing, will not equal the new loans made in 1949 by some $576 million. The increase in loans over repayments in 1948 and 1949 is accounted for by new international loans being made at a much higher rate than collections on such loans. Income to the corporations will drop sharply as do operating costs. Borrowings and capital subscriptions, including appropriations, are estimated to exceed repayments in 1949 by some $181 million. The reason for the apparent large amount of anticipated repayments of borrowing to the United States Treasury in 1949 is that the figure includes anticipated cancellation of notes in the amount of $9,334 million.

INCOME AND EXPENSES

The net result as shown by the consolidated income and expense statement should not be confused with the net cash withdrawals from the United States Treasury. The income and expense statement reflects the net costs consumed by the Government for the operations of the corporations and credit agencies as applied to the income earned, irrespective of the cash withdrawals from the United States Treasury. The gross volume of income reflects the diminishing scope of the corporation programs and a transition from war to peace time activities. Total income will decline from $4,123 million in 1947 to $3,547 million in 1948 and to $2,982 million in 1949. Total expenses will increase in 1948 over 1947 because of the write-off of $6,546 million of war plants and veterans' housing developments. In 1949 the expenses will be higher than the income earned because of the further write-off of wartime activities.

The net loss before adjustments of reserves in 1947 amounted to $925 million which includes a write-off of $973 million of war plants and housing facilities, and payment of $122 million in subsidies. In 1948 the net loss before adjustments is estimated at $6,540 million, but includes a $6,546 million write-off of wartime assets and payment of some $11 million in subsidies. In 1949 the net loss before adjustments is estimated to be $695 million. This includes a further write-off of $466 million and an additional reduction of $276 million in wartime assets of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (under other expenses). The Corporation assigns the estimated liquidation value of such assets to the Treasury for payment into miscellaneous receipts.

Sales of commodities and supplies will drop sharply from $3,533 million in 1947 to an estimated $2,573 million in 1949, reflecting the decline in the procurement of strategic materials. Income from rents shows a decline from $175 million in 1947 to $89 million in 1949, reflecting the sale of rental housing. Sales of services show a moderate increase due to the increase in sale of power by the Tennessee Valley Authority. Income from rents and sales of services exceeds the direct operating costs therefor in the 3 years shown. Subsidies will decline sharply from $122 million in 1947 to $6 million in 1949. Insurance premiums collected are anticipated to exceed losses and claims therefor by some $54 million in 1949. Administrative expenses will decline from $87 million in 1947 to $75 million in 1949.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

During the current fiscal year the book value of assets of Government corporations and credit agencies will fall from $11,287 million to $9,574 million as of June 30, 1948. By June 30, 1949, the value of such assets is expected to be further reduced to $9,385 million. In contrast to this reduction, loans outstanding are expected to increase from $4,906 million as of June 30, 1947, to $5,584 million as of June 30, 1949. New international loans will greatly exceed repayments. Repayments on domestic loans will about equal new loans made. The book value of land, structures, and equipment will decline sharply from $2,720 million as of June 30, 1947, to $1,771 million as of June 30, 1949, reflecting the disposition of war plants and housing primarily. The decline in book value of commodities and supplies on hand is due to both sales and transfers to the military stockpile.

Investments will decline moderately to $607 million as of June 30, 1949. Of the above amount, investment in United States Government securities, largely held by agricultural credit corporations and housing corporations, will amount to $459 million. Advances and accounts receivable are expected to be reduced from $1,014 million as of June 30, 1947, to $264 million as of June 30, 1949.

In this summary statement paid-in capital and surplus includes not only the original capital investment by the Treasury in Government corporations but also appropriations from the general fund of the Treasury for specific programs related to corporate activity. Appropriations to restore capital impairment, or cancellation of notes owned by the Treasury (which has the same effect as restoration of capital) have been applied to reduce the deficit of the corporations and credit agencies. The decrease in the deficit account from $8,821 million estimated at June 30, 1948, to $126 million estimated at June 30, 1949, reflects additional charges to this account for the estimated net loss on operations in 1949 of $544 million and payments of dividends to the United States Treasury of $74 million, less the anticipated cancellation of notes of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for restoration of its capital in the amount of $9,313 million.

EXPORT-IMPORT BANK OF WASHINGTON

Purpose and Financial Organization

The Export-Import Bank of Washington is authorized by the Export-Import Bank Act of 1945 (12 U. S. C. 635), as amended, to extend loans and guaranties not in excess at any one time of $3.5 billion "to aid in financing and to facilitate exports and imports and the exchange of commodities between the United States or any of its Territories or insular possessions and any foreign country or the agencies or nationals thereof." Total loans, guaranties, and undisbursed credit authorizations outstanding on June 30, 1947, amounted to approximately $2,689,500,000. The Bank's entire authorized capital stock of $1 billion had been issued and was held by the Secretary of the Treasury. The Bank is authorized to borrow from the Treasury not in excess of two and one-half times its capital stock. As of June 30, 1947, borrowings of the Bank from the Treasury amounted to $516,200,000.

In June 1947, the Export-Import Bank Act of 1945 was amended (Public Law 89, 80th Cong.) to provide a Federal charter in place of a District of Columbia charter; to extend the life of the Corporation to June 30, 1953; to provide that the Bank shall pay interest on borrowings from the Treasury at a rate determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, taking into consideration the current average rate on outstanding marketable obligations of the United States as of the last day of the month preceding the issuance of the obligation of the Bank; and to provide that net earnings of the Bank, after reasonable provision for possible losses, shall be used for the payment of dividends on its capital stock.

The management of the Bank is vested in a Board of Directors consisting of the Secretary of State, ex officio, and four full-time members appointed by the President of the United States by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. One of the members of the Board is designated by the President to serve as chairman. Not more than three of the five directors may be members of any one political party.

Analysis of Budget Program

The budget program of the Bank for the fiscal year 1949 contemplates the essential servicing of the increasing volume of outstanding loans and credits, the examination and appraisal of applications for new credits, disbursements under new credits and existing credits which have not been fully utilized, and the continuation of its general foreign-trade program to aid in financing and facilitating exports and imports as authorized by the Congress.

LEND-LEASE TERMINATION CREDITS

In September 1945, the Bank authorized credits totaling $655 million to finance purchase of products and services for which requisitions had been filed and approved, but not contracted for, before VJ-day (Sept. 2, 1945) under the lend-lease program. As of June 30, 1946, the credits had been fully disbursed. Repayments in 1947 were approximately $19 million and for 1948 are estimated at $20.1 million and for 1949 at $21.6 million.

EMERGENCY RECONSTRUCTION CREDITS FOR UNITED STATES EXPORTS

Prior to the organization and operation of the International Bank, the Export-Import Bank undertook an emergency program of financing United States exports urgently required by war-torn countries for rehabilitation of their economies. This credit program was contemplated in the President's message to Congress, June 4, 1945, and in the hearings on the Export-Import Bank Act of 1945. In January 1947, the Bank announced that it would bring this program to a close, especially in connection with countries having membership in the International Bank.

As of June 30, 1947, total credits authorized under this program aggregated $1,192,293,750, as shown below.

Emergency reconstruction credits of Export-Import Bank, by countries, outstanding June 30, 1947

Total	1,192,293,750	743,780,587

[1] Exclusive of $100 million to the Netherlands East Indies and $15 million additional to Saudi Arabia, agreements for which have never been formalized.

[2] Exclusive of $93,300,000 disbursed by commercial banks for their own account and risk.

Disbursements are estimated at $338.6 million in 1948 and $70 million in 1949. Repayments are estimated at $20.1 million in 1948, but none are due in 1949. The terms of most of the loans do not call for commencement of repayments until 1950 or 1951.

GENERAL FOREIGN TRADE CREDITS

The Bank has generally offered facilities for financing the export or import of goods or services which private capital is unable to undertake, either because the terms of repayment are longer than is customary in commercial bank practice or because of other impediments.

The essence of the program is that the projects, goods, and services to be financed are carefully selected from the point of view of United States foreign trade, giving consideration to a better balance of international payments, both of the United States and of the borrowing country. This program is confined generally to shorter term financing, running from approximately 1 to 10 years.

The details of method of financing under this program differ somewhat from credit to credit, but the underlying policies and objectives of each credit are similar, i. e., to stimulate a sound two-way foreign trade for the United States and to contribute toward a better balance of international payments.

Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

In credits initiated by American exporters the Bank usually requires participation by the exporter with the Bank, together with participation by commercial banks whenever possible. Credit arrangements for the export of specific commodities, such as raw cotton, whether on the initiative of American exporters or the borrowing country, are usually patterned on the trade and banking customs and requirements of a single specialized commodity. Credits initiated entirely by borrowing countries for specific projects may provide for participation of American exporters and commercial banks when possible. In many instances, however, the goods and services required for a single project are of such an extensive variety that it is impracticable for the Bank to provide contractually for exporter participation. Nevertheless, it frequently happens that the purchaser in the borrowing country is able to secure credit from American exporters in addition to the assistance afforded by the Bank.

Generally, credits under this program, whether initiated by American exporters or foreign purchasers, are required by the Bank to be guaranteed, both as to credit and as to availability of dollar exchange for service of the loan, by the government or central bank of the borrowing country.

During the year ended June 30, 1947, credits under this program were extended for transactions in the following countries: Argentina, Austria, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Italy, Mexico, Netherlands, Turkey, and Venezuela.

As of June 30, 1947, loans outstanding under this program amounted to $380.7 million and undisbursed authorizations were $468.5 million. Repayments during the year were $42.2 million. Disbursements are estimated at $599.2 million in 1948 and $584.9 million in 1949. Repayments are estimated at $78.9 million in 1948 and $106.1 million in 1949.

REVOLVING CREDITS FOR SMALL EXPORTERS AND IMPORTERS

In addition to the general foreign-trade program described above, the Bank makes its facilities available to smaller United States exporters and importers who are unable to secure necessary assistance from commercial banks. Sometimes, large commercial banks which specialize in foreign-trade financing find it difficult to give adequate service to small concerns. Smaller banks which might perform this service frequently do not have the facilities for foreign-trade financing. To provide for these small exporters and importers the Bank has authorized a revolving credit of $1 million to which such concerns may have access.

Although the average amount outstanding per account at any one time is small, approximately $5,000, the total disbursements on these revolving credits in 1947 were approximately $600,000. Estimated disbursements in 1948 are $500,000 and $500,000 in 1949. Repayments are estimated in 1948 at $500,000 and $500,000 in 1949.

TYPES OF GOODS AND SERVICES FINANCED BY BANK CREDITS

The importance of the Bank's operations to the United States economy will be seen from the volume of the type of goods and services financed by the Bank under its several programs. All credits proposed are examined for any unwarranted inclusion of goods in domestic short supply. Frequently the Bank can arrange with applicants for substitution of products in greater supply or may suggest to the applicants that they should be purchased in other countries and eliminated from the proposed credit from the Bank.

The following table indicates the value of the exports financed during the fiscal year 1947, based on the classification of the Department of Commerce:

Description	Total disbursed
Animals and animal products:
Edible	$14,623,077.89
Inedible	4,791,363.80

IMPORT ACTIVITIES

From the viewpoint of assuring future repayment of its loans, the Bank is vitally concerned with the necessity for a growing level of imports into the United States of such character and in such a manner as will not dislocate American producers.

The Bank is therefore placing great emphasis, in the selection of credits, on the extent to which these credits will aid in a better balance of payments both in the borrowing country and in the United States as has been described under the heading of its general foreign-trade program. The carrying out of this general policy will, of course, facilitate the repayment problem. Most United States imports currently do not require direct financing by the Export-Import Bank. Such financing as is required can usually be provided by United States commercial banks, because the term of maturities on such financing is usually short and because United States importers are usually adequately served by recourse financing provided by commercial banks. The Bank stands ready to facilitate imports into the United States by any means consistent with its statute and policies in cooperation with importers or others interested in the import problem.

PRIVATE CAPITAL PARTICIPATION

The Export-Import Bank Act of 1945 requires that the Bank "* * * supplement and encourage and not compete with private capital." In accordance with this provision, the Bank makes no loans in instances where it can be determined that private capital would be available on a reasonable basis. Since June 30, 1945, it is estimated that business resulting from applications or inquiries at the Bank totaling $25 million has been diverted into commercial-bank channels. Further, to carry out this policy, the Bank exerts every effort to secure participation of private capital in the Bank's credits. This takes place in several ways.

First, the Bank encourages the practice of foreign purchasers financing a portion of the purchase price of the exports with the use of their own dollar funds by advancing a percentage of the purchase price in cash at the time the order is placed or before goods are ready for shipment. In some cases, as a condition to granting credits, the Bank has required substantial additional capital investment in a project by the foreign borrower. While such an investment is usually in the currency of the borrowing country and, therefore, does not enter into the transaction of the Export-Import Bank, the investment of this additional capital has been made possible because of the Bank's credit. It is impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the amount of cash payments and foreign investment capital thus working along with the Export-Import Bank, but it is believed that during the past year they amounted to at least $25 million.

Second, the Bank usually requires that American exporters participate, at their own risk, in some portion of these credits for which they have asked the Bank's assistance. Frequently, even in credits initiated by foreign entities, the American exporter likewise participates either at the suggestion of the Export-Import Bank or because they are asked to do so by the foreign purchaser. In general, the Bank expects that exporters should participate at least to the extent of 25 percent of the total credit. It is difficult to estimate the amount of exporter participation accompanying credits initiated by foreign entities, but it is believed that the total amount of exporters' participation of all types in Export-Import Bank credits during 1947 would have at least exceeded $5 million.

Third, the Bank attempts to secure participation of commercial banks at their own risk in the Export-Import Bank loans. In a loan of $200 million to the Kingdom of the Netherlands, commercial banks participated, at their own risk, for approximately $93 million. In an increasing number of instances commercial banks are participating with Export-Import Bank in its exporter credits. In instances where such participation has been arranged it has frequently amounted to approximately 25 percent of the credit. It is estimated that participation by commercial banks since 1945 would total approximately $94.5 million.

Fourth, the Bank may sell securities from its own portfolio without recourse to the Bank. To date, no securities in the Bank's portfolio have been resold. There has been little evidence to date of a market for the securities.

Extensive international financing by private capital itself or in participation with the Export-Import Bank is still definitely limited. The Bank is continuing, however, to place a great deal of emphasis and importance on this policy. The Bank has a special division in its organization to maintain close contact with the private-capital market and to assist in stimulating private-capital participation.

OPERATING RESULTS

During the fiscal year 1947, the Bank's resources were drawn upon (loan disbursements) to the extent of $1,085 million. This sum closely measures the actual export of goods in that period directly financed by the Bank's loans. Including the effect of private participation, however, the amount of goods exported as a result of the Bank's activities would be considerably greater.

New credits authorized during the fiscal year 1947 totaled $279 million. Because of the changing emphasis in the Bank's programs during 1947, it was necessary to proceed slowly with new credits, case by case. Repayments of principal on loans outstanding amounted to $62 million.

Operations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947, showed a net income of $30 million after charging off all expenses, including interest paid on money borrowed from the Treasury, and charging a reserve for delinquent loans of $273,000. The entire net earnings for the year were transferred to earned surplus reserved for future contingencies. It is impossible to calculate the future possible losses on loans now in good standing. For this reason the directors have determined that the entire earned surplus of the Bank be so reserved as a reasonable provision for possible losses, and no dividends have been paid. The total accumulated earned surplus so reserved amounted to $62 million as of June 30, 1947.

As of June 30, 1947, the Secretary of the Treasury determined that the effective rate of interest on new borrowings by the Bank would be 1.75 percent per annum. Had the Bank paid, hypothetically, 1.75 percent on all its borrowings during the year and on all its capital stock outstanding, net earnings would have approximated $12.7 million. This sum represents the amount earned hypothetically by the Bank for the account of the United States after all costs, including interest on all public funds used.

Financial Condition

LOAN ACCOUNT

As of June 30, 1947, total loans outstanding amounted to $1,751 million. Undisbursed credit authorizations amounted to $938 million, making total outstanding credit authorizations, in the form of loans or credits remaining to be disbursed, $2,689 million. The uncommitted lending authority of the Bank as of June 30, 1947, was, therefore, $811 million.

Of the total loans outstanding on June 30, 1947, $193 million was advanced by private commercial banks under guaranty of Export-Import Bank to assume the loans upon demand of the commercial banks.

Of the total loans outstanding on June 30, 1947, five loans were delinquent in some respect, amounting in total to $273,000. These loans were so reported in the budget statement last year. No new delinquencies occurred during the fiscal year 1947. Approximately $16,000 was collected on these delinquent loans during the year. The loans are offset in full by the reserve.

CAPITAL STOCK

Capital stock issued and outstanding as of June 30, 1947, all held by the Secretary of the Treasury, was $1 billion. During the fiscal year 1947 the Bank issued $325 million of its stock to total the full amount authorized.

BORROWING AUTHORITY

The present borrowing authority of the Bank is $2.5 billion, which, together with the total authorized stock of $1 billion, equals the total lending limitation of $3.5 billion.

As of June 30, 1947, the Bank had borrowed from the United States Treasury $516.2 million. Programs herein contemplated are expected to require net borrowings from the Treasury amounting to $735 million in 1948 and $500 million in 1949.

Although it is estimated that the Bank's lending authority will be almost fully obligated in 1949, notes to be issued to the Treasury will not take up the full borrowing authority in the same period. The difference is caused by three factors: First, there is a time lag between the date on which credits are authorized and the date on which disbursements are made thereunder; second, in instances where the services of commercial banks are desirable, arrangements are made for commercial banks to make Export-Import Bank loan advances from their own funds guaranteed by the Export-Import Bank, thus reducing the amounts to be borrowed from the Treasury; third, the Bank follows the practice of depositing in its checking account with the Treasury all of its earned surplus derived from interest receipts and all other sources and using these funds for future loans in preference to borrowing from the Treasury or maintaining any substantial cash balances of its own. During the 6 months ended June 30, 1947, the Bank's average daily cash balance varied between $100,000 and $300,000.

Effect on Government Budget

By reference to schedule A–1 it will be noted that the net cash withdrawals on the United States Treasury during the fiscal year 1948 are estimated at about $735 million and for the fiscal year 1949 at $500 million. The principal components creating the net effect on the Government Budget are loan disbursements (payments), disbursements by agent banks under Export-Import Bank guaranty which substitute for Treasury disbursements, repayments of loan principal, and interest receipts.

In the fiscal year 1948, repayments are estimated at $120 million and interest receipts at $60 million, making a total estimated return to the Bank from its borrowers of $180 million. In the fiscal year 1949, repayments of loan principal are estimated at $128 million and interest payments at $68 million, or total receipts from borrowers amounting to $196 million. This sum represents approximately 40 percent of the net budget payments indicated in schedule A–1. The receipt estimates make no allowance for possible defaults which could occur, either as the result of international conditions generally or as the result of conditions pertaining to individual loans. Defaults which might result from general international causes are beyond the power of the Bank to control. Losses which might be incurred from conditions pertaining only to individual loans might, in considerable measure, be controlled by the Bank, depending upon the quality and thoroughness of loan management by the Bank.

Generally, the Bank does not make loan advances in lump sum but only from time to time as goods are ready for shipment. Under present conditions this period may extend for as much as 2 or 3 years. The Bank can thus exert considerable influence over borrowers for an extended period of time. It is essential, in order that the funds entrusted to the Bank may be properly protected, that it have adequate provision in an administrative expense budget for sufficient personnel of adequate knowledge and experience to be constantly examining loans in progress, both at the Bank's office in Washington, D. C., and in the borrowing country. It is the considered judgment of the Bank that success or failure of collection of principal and interest depends in substantial measure upon the ability of the Bank to send competent representatives to foreign countries to observe on the spot and in detail the manner and efficiency with which the money loaned by the Bank is being used. The Bank is in a position to take remedial action in any instance, if it should be required, by virtue of the fact that further advances to the borrowers can be made conditional on the correction of such conditions. Whereas the total administrative expenses of the Bank total less than a million dollars and the collections are expected to run in the vicinity of $200 million per annum and the total money on loan will exceed more than $3 billion, it is vital that the Bank be given adequate authorization for administrative expenses.

Administrative Expenses

Salaries of the officers, operating staff, and the general expenses incident to the conduct of the programs of the Bank are provided for under this title.

The board of directors and the President's office exercise supervision over all affairs of the Bank. The functions are performed by eight divisions: (1) legal, (2) economic, (3) engineering, (4) examining, (5) private capital participation, (6) treasurer and accounting, (7) secretary, and (8) administrative assistant.

The activities of the Bank may be readily divided into three major categories: (1) consideration of applications for loans, which involve exhaustive examination of all financial, legal, economic, and engineering factors, including the following: (a) The urgency of the need of the applicant; (b) the applicant's own resources; (c) the possibility of the applicant obtaining the loan from other sources, including private capital and loans from other governments; (d) the ability of the applicant to make effective use of the funds; (e) the capacity of the applicant to repay; (f) the effect of the loan, if granted, on the domestic economy of the United States; (2) management of loans, which, as of June 30, 1948, will amount to $2,576 million as compared with $1,757 million on June 30, 1947; and (3) private capital participation.

The work of the Bank required 125 positions during 1947, and during the current year will need 128 positions. The estimates for the fiscal year 1949 also call for 128 positions. The continuance of the staff at this level is essential to carry out more extensive supervision and examination of the Bank's loans and to handle the steadily increasing work. As explained in the section above dealing with the effect of the Bank's operations on the Government Budget, adequate staffing is essential to assure that there are no preventable losses, which could far exceed the amount requested for administrative expenses. In addition to this, the general work load of the bank is steadily increasing on account of the increase in loans outstanding; the fact that a greater number of small credits than previously are now involved; and the vital necessity of having members of the staff available, without detriment to the orderly processing of work in the Bank, to make local examinations and inspections as to the practical use of the funds being disbursed. The best measure of this work load is the total number of transactions the Bank must handle. Total transactions in 1947 were 50,000 and are estimated at 60,000 in 1948 and 50,000 in 1949.

Administrative expenses represent the cost of servicing loans. In fiscal year 1947, such expenses represented one twenty-fifth of 1 percent of loans outstanding at the close of that year; in fiscal year 1948, they are estimated at one-thirtieth of 1 percent; and in fiscal year 1949, at one-fortieth of 1 percent.

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, defined as a mixed-ownership corporation by the Government Corporation Control Act, was organized under authority of the Banking Act of 1933 to insure the deposits of all banks that apply and qualify for insurance under the law. There are now only 1,185 uninsured banks in the United States and its possessions. On June 30, 1947, the number of insured banks was 13,582 and the contingent liability of the Corporation with respect to insured deposits aggregated almost $73 billion. The insurance provided by the Corporation protects the accounts of depositors up to a maximum of $5,000 each.

To protect some 85 million depositors in the 13,582 insured banks the Corporation requires each such bank to maintain certain standards of banking practice. In carrying out its program it examines annually 6,651 insured banks not examined by any other Federal agency and reviews the reports of examination of 6,931 banks which are examined either by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency or the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. The Corporation in certain instances also conducts special examinations of the latter group of banks.

Two methods have been utilized by the Corporation to protect depositors of insured banks: (1) By making a loan on or through the purchase of substandard assets of a bank in an unsound condition in order to facilitate its merger with another insured bank; (2) by paying deposits of a closed insured bank up to $5,000 for each depositor. During the fiscal year 1947 no insured banks were placed in receivership and only three such banks required financial aid from the Corporation.

By Executive order of April 27, 1942, the Corporation was given temporary responsibility for supervision of the activities of all Federal credit unions which prior to that time had been under the jurisdiction of the Farm Credit Administration. The temporary transfer of these activities was made permanent by Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1947 (effective June 29, 1947). On June 30, 1947, there were 3,812 Federal credit unions in operation. The Corporation does not, however, insure share balances in the credit unions.

All insured banks pay assessments at an annual rate of one-twelfth of 1 percent of their deposit liabilities. During the past 13 years the return from its capital investment and assessments has been sufficient to cover all insurance losses and expenses of the Corporation and provide for the accumulation of a surplus which, on June 30, 1947, amounted to $844 million. The administrative expenses of the Corporation are provided for through an authorization approving the use of a specified amount of the Corporation's income for this purpose and do not require the appropriation of funds from the United States Treasury.

The capital stock of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation is without nominal or par value, is nonvoting, and is not entitled to the payment of dividends. As of June 30, 1947, the total amount paid for capital stock outstanding was $289,299,556.99, of which the United States Government paid $150 million and the Federal Reserve banks paid $139,299,556.99. Public Law 363, approved August 5, 1947, directed the Corporation to retire its capital stock by paying the amount originally received therefor to the Secretary of the Treasury. The act provides that as soon as practicable after enactment, retirement be accomplished by paying to the Secretary, so much of the Corporation's capital and surplus as was in excess of $1 billion, and that the balance be paid in units of $10 million as soon as each such payment could be made without reducing the capital and surplus below $1 billion.

On September 9, 1947, pursuant to Public Law 363, the sum of $139,299,556.99, representing full retirement of the capital stock subscribed to by the Federal Reserve banks, and $7,395,693.42, representing partial retirement of the capital stock subscribed to by the Secretary of the Treasury on behalf of the United States was paid into the United States Treasury. Additional payments of $30 million through November 30, 1947, bring the total amount of capital stock retired as of that date to $176,695,250.41. Subsequent payments to be made under terms of the act are expected to accomplish complete retirement of the remaining outstanding stock early in the fiscal year 1949.

The $6,210,000 included for administrative expenses for the fiscal year 1949 represents an increase of about 12 percent over the amount provided for 1948. The major functional increase for 1949 provides for strengthening the Corporation's examining force with respect to both bank and Federal credit union examinations so as to enable the Corporation to more fully meet its increasing responsibilities under present economic conditions. During the 3-year period ended June 30, 1947, the total of loans and discounts in all banks insured by the Corporation increased 53 percent to an all-time high of $36.6 billion. The total resources of such banks on June 30, 1947, was approximately $157.5 billion.

HOUSING AND HOME FINANCE AGENCY

INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

The major housing activities of the Federal Government were permanently grouped in the Housing and Home Finance Agency by Reorganization Plan No. 3 which became effective July 27, 1947. At the same time, the National Housing Agency, which was the wartime temporary organization into which these functions had been grouped for the first time by Executive Order 9070 of February 24, 1942, ceased to exist.

The new Agency includes three major constituents:

Home Loan Bank Board, successor to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration.
Federal Housing Administration.
Public Housing Administration, successor to the United States Housing Authority and the Federal Public Housing Authority.

The Office of the Administrator of the Agency is responsible for the general supervision and coordination of the functions of these constituents, and for developing information, plans for action and proposals for establishment or modification of policy in matters relating to the execution of the laws under which the Federal Government has accepted responsibility for aiding the public, the housing and home finance industries and local governments in the solution of the problem of providing adequate shelter in the Nation. The office is responsible for assuring that the housing policies established by the Congress will be carried out with consistency of purpose, without friction, duplication, or overlapping. It has primary responsibility for the administration and liquidation of the public war and veterans' housing programs.

The Home Loan Bank Board supervises the Federal system of home loan banks and building and loan associations and similar financial institutions concerned with the provision of credit to home buyers. The Board also acts as the Board of Directors for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation and as board of trustees for the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. Thus, three agencies are grouped under, and administered by, the Board. Separate budgets are presented for each of them. The Insurance Corporation insures accounts (up to $5,000) of investors in the savings institutions which pay an annual premium for the coverage. The Home Owners' Loan Corporation is in the process of liquidating the Federal home mortgage undertaking through which over one million direct loans were made to home owners between 1933 and 1936.

The Federal Housing Administration carries out the provisions of titles I, II, and VI of the National Housing Act in insuring notes and mortgages for the repair, improvement, modernization, construction, and purchase of residential property. Its operations are financed by collection of fees and premiums for the services and protection provided.

The Public Housing Administration administers the low-rent housing and slum-clearance program authorized by the United States Housing Act of 1937, in addition to operating all of the federally owned nonmilitary nonfarm housing. Under a delegation from the Administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency and under his policy supervision, the Public Housing Administration is engaged in liquidating the public war housing and other programs. By similar delegation, it also provides, and supervises management of, temporary housing for veterans and their families under the authority of title V of the Lanham Act.

Appropriations are requested in the estimates of the Agency only for the Office of the Administrator and for annual contributions to local housing authorities for maintenance of the low rent character of public housing developed under the United States Housing Act of 1937. All other activities are financed from the corporate and other funds available from operations of the constituent units of the Agency.

Although the Federal Housing Administration is not included under title I of the Government Corporation Control Act, its 1949 budget is being voluntarily submitted for the first time in accordance with the provisions of that act. With the exception of the Office of the Administrator and the Home Loan Bank Board, all of the other programs within the Housing and Home Finance Agency are included in section 101 of that act, and are presented as business-type budgets.

No provision has been made in the estimates submitted for other than presently authorized functions, and the programs set out make no allowance for additional activities which may result from enactment of new legislation.

OFFICE OF THE ADMINISTRATOR

The Office of the Administrator provides the staff assistance through which the Administrator discharges his responsibility for the general supervision and coordination of the functions of the constituent units of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, as required pursuant to Reorganization Plan No. 3. Through the grouping of housing functions within this Agency, this office provides for the President and the Congress a primary source of information relating to housing.

In connection with this responsibility, the Administrator is charged with the duty of analyzing technical, financial, and economic programs, developing new methods and techniques, appraising needs, and formulating proposals for Federal action, consistent with national policy, to assist private enterprise, labor, the public, and all levels of government in solving the Nation's housing problems.

In addition to the general responsibilities arising out of the Agency's field of operations, there are two other principal functions of the Office of the Administrator.

The first of these is that of providing staff assistance and consultation for the National Housing Council. The Council, of which the Administrator is chairman, includes (in addition to the heads of the constituent units of the Agency) representatives of the Veterans' Administration, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and the Secretary of Agriculture. The Council serves as a medium for developing plans for the fullest and most effective use of the housing functions and activities of the agencies represented on the Council in the furtherance of housing policies and objectives established by law; for facilitating consistency between such housing functions and activities and the general economic and fiscal policies of the Government; and for avoiding overlapping or duplication of such housing functions and activities.

The second of these additional functions of the Office of the Administrator is in the discharge of the Administrator's responsibility for the development, management, and disposition of publicly financed war and veterans' housing, operation of which has been delegated to the Public Housing Administration.

A nominal amount has been included in the budget to provide for certain housing surveys and materials testing. The necessity for a program of basic technical research is recognized, however, and the Office is now engaged in a survey from which definite recommendations can shortly be made and possible amendments to existing legislation submitted.

The budget estimates here used compare the actual expenses of the Office of the Administrator of the National Housing Agency for the 5½ months of fiscal year 1947 during which it was operated separately from the Office of the Housing Expediter with the revised 1948 estimate and budget estimate for 1949 of the Office of the Administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

HOME LOAN BANK BOARD

INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1947 established the Home Loan Bank Board, of three members, and transferred to it functions of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the Board of Trustees of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and the Board of Directors of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation. The Home Loan Bank Board supersedes the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration, created by Executive Order 9070 dated February 24, 1942, which superseded the Federal Home Loan Bank Board created by the Federal Home Loan Bank Act, approved July 22, 1932 (47 Stat. 725).

The Board formulates policies of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, headed by its Governor; and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation and the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, each headed by its general manager. Administrative expenses of the Board and the offices of the Governor of the Federal Home Loan Bank System are defrayed from assessments paid by the 11 Federal home loan banks and fees collected from savings and loan institutions for services rendered, under annual limitations established by the Congress. The estimate below covers the combined requirements of the Board and the Bank System.

Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

Under the provisions of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act, approved July 22, 1932 (47 Stat. 725), Congress created a reservoir of credit by authorizing the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to establish Federal home loan banks throughout the country from which home-financing institutions might secure funds to meet the reasonable withdrawal requests of their investors and supplement the savings ordinarily received from individual citizens to meet the home-financing needs of their communities. The Federal home loan banks created under the act, and the building and loan associations and similar institutions which are members of these banks, constitute the Federal Home Loan Bank System. It was designed to stabilize and strengthen the agencies promoting private thrift and individual home ownership. It performs substantially the same function in the field of home mortgage credit as the Federal Reserve System performs as a credit reserve for commercial banks, and the Federal land banks perform in the field of farm finance.

The Federal home loan banks, defined as mixed-ownership corporations by the Government Corporations Control Act of 1945 (Public Law 248, 79th Cong.), obtain their funds from subscriptions to capital stock, the issuance of their own obligations, and deposits of member institutions. The capital stock of the banks consists of subscriptions of the United States Government and of member institutions. The Secretary of the Treasury was authorized by the Congress to subscribe to the capital stock of the Federal home loan banks up to the total amount of $125 million. The amount thus subscribed and paid in full aggregated $124,741,000, of which $2,068,800 had been retired as of June 30, 1947, leaving a Government interest in the banks of $122,672,200. Ownership of stock in this amount was transferred as of July 1, 1947, from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to the Secretary of the Treasury, under the provisions of Public Law 132, Eighteenth Congress. Further retirements of Government stock are estimated at $2,875,000 during fiscal year 1948 and $2 million during 1949.

There follows a condensed statement of the financial condition of the banks as of June 30, 1947.

ESTIMATES OF APPROPRIATION

Transfer of Ownership of Federal Home Loan Bank Stock From Reconstruction Finance Corporation to the Secretary of the Treasury—

The act of June 30, 1947 (Public Law 132), extending the succession, lending powers, and the functions of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, authorized and directed the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to transfer, and the Secretary of the Treasury to receive, all of the stock of the Federal home loan banks held by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The afore-mentioned act further directed the Secretary of the Treasury to cancel notes of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and sums due and unpaid upon or in connection with such notes at the time of such cancellation, in an amount equal to the par value of the stock so transferred.

Appropriated 1948, $122,672,200

Purpose and Financial Organization

The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation was created under title IV of the National Housing Act of June 27, 1934 (48 Stat. 1246), which has been amended by acts of Congress, approved May 28, 1935, (49 Stat. 293), and February 3, 1938 (52 Stat. 8). By insuring savings up to $5,000 for each account of investors in all Federal savings and loan associations and in other institutions of the savings and loan type which apply and are approved, the Corporation is instrumental in providing a permanent and reliable source of funds for economical home financing. Equally important is the maintenance of confidence in these financial institutions. Such insurance is now regarded by the public as essential for the protection of their security.

The total authorized and issued capital stock of the Corporation, amounting to $100,000,000, is held by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation. As directed by section 402 (b) of title IV of the National Housing Act (48 Stat. 1246), as amended, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation issued bonds in payment for this stock and is entitled to payment of dividends out of net earnings at a rate equal to the interest rate on the bonds. Dividends were paid from June 27, 1934, to June 30, 1935, since which time they have been accumulated at the rate of $3,000,000 per year. The payment of dividends on the capital stock has been deferred until ample reserves could be established and a determination made that the Corporation had net earnings after the provision for losses. Because of the dividend obligation and the basic insurance liability of $6,749,109,000 on 2,529 insured savings and loan associations as of June 30, 1947, the Corporation does not contemplate the return of any Government capital during 1949.

For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of title IV of the National Housing Act, authority exists to borrow money and to issue notes, bonds, debentures, or other such obligations upon such terms and conditions as the Corporation may determine. As of June 30, 1947, there were no securities of these types outstanding.

Section 404 (a) of the National Housing Act requires the Corporation to accumulate a reserve fund equivalent to 5 percent of all insured accounts and creditor obligations of all insured institutions. As of June 30, 1947, total reserves of the Corporation were equal to 1.162 percent of the insured liability. Excluding the special reserve for contingencies, which is equal to the accumulated dividends on the capital stock, the reserve fund would be only 0.629 percent of the basic insured liability. Statement of condition of the Corporation is shown as exhibit C.

Analysis of Budget Programs

The budget of the Corporation is based upon the following functions which make up the over-all insurance program:

1. Extension of new insurance.
2. Payment of insurance claims.
3. Rehabilitation of insured institutions.
4. Income from insurance operations.

Since 1934, the Corporation's activities have been primarily in connection with granting of insurance to eligible institutions, payment of insurance, liquidation of Federal associations declared in default, and the rehabilitation of insured institutions through contributions to prevent default. Because of this pattern, estimates for 1949, as reflected in the statement of sources and application of funds (exhibit A), have been restricted to these fields. However, consideration must be given to the possibility that conditions in certain cases may necessitate other action, as authorized by law, instead of the procedure heretofore followed.

EXTENSION OF NEW INSURANCE

As of June 30, 1947, there were 2,529 insured institutions with assets of approximately $7,905,417,000, an increase of nearly 17.2 percent since the beginning of the fiscal year. Although the increase in assets and outstanding shares of insured institutions has been tremendous during the past few years, no marked increase in the number of insured institutions has occurred until recently when the Corporation attempted to resume normal operations by extending the protection of insurance to the many thousands of small investors throughout the country and to further the development of facilities for adequate and economical home financing. In 1949, particular attention will be given to the approximately 1,140 uninsured associations with assets of about $1,765,686,000, which are members of the Federal Home Loan Bank System. These institutions serve about 1,400,000 investors with uninsured savings amounting to roughly $1,560,000,000 who are entitled to and should receive the insurance protection contemplated by title IV of the National Housing Act. This intended development of the insurance program will not mean the acceptance of unnecessary risk. On the contrary, many of these institutions compare more than favorably with insured institutions in the same area. Over 60 percent of the uninsured members of the Federal Home Loan Bank System are concentrated in five States and in the aggregate have a ratio of reserves and undivided profits to assets in excess of the percentage held by insured associations.

Whether or not a reserve position for a savings and loan association is adequate depends primarily upon the soundness of its mortgage loans. It is common knowledge that economic activity in the field of housing has been vigorous and the price of real estate is high. It is difficult to determine what will happen to the price structure in the future and to measure the effect of its fluctuations on financial institutions.

On the other hand the experiences of the early Thirties give concrete evidence of the adverse effect upon financial institutions of a loss of public confidence. Recognizing that a loss of confidence in uninsured associations may react unfavorably to some extent on insured institutions and the risk of the Corporation, it is believed that the extension of insurance of accounts is a sound feature of public policy.

PAYMENT OF INSURANCE CLAIMS

Each insured investor in an insured institution in default has the option of either (1) a new insured account in an insured institution not in default, or (2) 10 percent of his insured account in cash and the balance of 90 percent in negotiable noninterest bearing debentures, one-half due within 1 year and one-half within 3 years from the date of default.

The Corporation has been called upon to make payment of insurance on seven institutions with 7,705 investors' accounts amounting to $7,557,214 with the following results as of June 30, 1947:

	Number of accounts	Percent	Amount	Percent
Insured accounts	7,705	100.00	$7,557,214	100.00
$5,000 or less	7,646	99.23	6,411,842	84.84
Over $5,000 [1]	59	.77	1,145,372	15.16
Insurance paid	7,174	93.11	6,695,845	88.60
Insurance unpaid	531	6.89	10,997	.15

[1] Partially covered by insurance to $5,000 totaling $295,000. Total insurance payable aggregated $6,706,842, or 88.75 percent of amount invested.

During the fiscal year 1947, the Corporation was in the process of completing liquidation of four institutions for which it was acting as receiver. It is estimated the losses on shares subrogated to the Corporation in connection with the payment of insurance will amount to approximately $316,325 of which $25,040 has been absorbed, $290,445 appears as an allowance for losses on subrogated shares and $839 is reflected as an allowance for losses on pending and unclaimed accounts in exhibit C as of June 30, 1947.

Failures are often attributed to local or national economic fluctuations but it is not generally recognized that failures are a fairly normal expectancy. While there exists no accurate method of determining the number of loss cases the Corporation may expect, prudent management requires a condition of preparedness to meet any possible difficulties. This may be particularly true of the field of housing and real estate in view of present costs and prices.

For 1948 and 1949, it is conceivable that 10 loss cases may develop in each year, divided into 6 liquidations and 4 cases to be rehabilitated through contributions for the purposes of eliminating impairments of capital.

In order to determine the effect of this program on the operations and its financial condition, the Corporation had to make certain basic assumptions. First, it was assumed that trouble cases would probably develop from the 116 insured associations with reserves of less than 3 percent of assets as of December 31, 1946. Second, due to the tremendous growth in the volume of loans made by insured institutions, and the present inflationary conditions and speculation in real estate, it was assumed that the average loss would be approximately 20 percent of the insured liability. Third, it was assumed that accounts of investors would be subrogated in accordance with the past experience of the Corporation, 90 percent in the first year and 9 percent in the second year. Fourth, it was assumed that liquidation of each institution would require 5 years to complete.

The 116 insured associations with reserves of less than 3 percent of assets held total assets of $254,509,557 as of December 31, 1946, or an average size of $2,194,048. Assuming that the insured share liability will aggregate 82.7 percent of the average assets, it was estimated that the Corporation will disburse $9,800,700 in the payment of insurance on six liquidations in 1948 and $10,780,700 on these and six additional cases in 1949. If such disbursements should be made, the Corporation could expect to receive partial liquidating dividends on shares subrogated to it in the process of paying insurance of $2,759,900 in 1949. The effect of this program is reflected in the statement of sources and application of funds (exhibit A).

REHABILITATION OF INSURED INSTITUTIONS

Since organization, the Corporation has saved 54,873 investors in 28 institutions from loss of their savings through contributions to remove impairments of capital in order to prevent default. These actions by the Corporation required it to disburse $5,374,125, of which $466,366 has been recovered, leaving a net loss of $4,907,759.

During the fiscal year 1947, the Corporation did not make any contributions to insured institutions. Undoubtedly the continued rise in real estate prices and the high level of employment have contributed to this situation. During the year 1947, the Corporation obtained a recovery of $135,811 on a contribution made in a previous year. This recovery appears as funds provided in the statement of sources and application of funds (exhibit A).

Attention is again directed to the difficulties of trying to indicate by preview whether losses will take the form of contributions or of liquidations. The exact determination can be made only by analysis of the facts presented in specific cases. Where communities would be deprived of essential financial services or where the causes are minor and temporary, there is a natural tendency to favor the more constructive settlement of contribution. Especially is this true when a merger can be made with another institution on a sound basis. It is significant that approximately 25 percent of the contributions to date have been made in connection with mergers. More serious conditions or the presence of an excessive number of associations would call for the more drastic remedy of liquidation. As indicated in the assumptions set forth above under "Payment of Insurance Claims," the Corporation may make contributions to four insured institutions in 1948 and four in 1949. Assuming that lending on inflated real estate values during the past few years may result in a possible average loss of 20 percent on the assets of each institution which the Corporation is called upon to assist in fiscal years 1948 and 1949, it is estimated that disbursements for the purpose of preventing defaults in insured institutions will aggregate $1,452,000 in fiscal year 1948 and also in fiscal year 1949. These amounts are reflected as funds applied in exhibit A and as a part of the expenses and losses of the Corporation in exhibit B.

Consideration should also be given to the fact that there are a number of large insured institutions, the failure of any one of which would seriously affect the estimates presented in the statement of sources and application of funds (exhibit A). Again it must be recognized that losses are minimized through the ability to move rapidly and select the most advantageous course of action, which could conceivably result in decisions to make loans, purchases of assets, or take other action now authorized by law, if circumstances should warrant.

INCOME FROM INSURANCE OPERATIONS

The present annual rate of one-eighth percent of insured accounts and creditor obligations has furnished the Corporation with a total income from premiums since organization of nearly $42,600,000. Income from invested capital and earnings from other sources have produced additional income of approximately $48,500,000. After deduction of operating costs, earnings have been credited to reserves for the purpose of absorbing losses, as required by title IV of the National Housing Act. All expenses and losses to date have been met from corporate income and no appropriation from the Treasury has been requested or received.

In the fiscal year 1947, income from insurance premiums and admission fees totaled $7,438,699 and interest earned on investments amounted to $4,003,737. During the first 6 months of the calendar year 1947, insured savings and loan associations showed a net gain in savings of $533,464,000. This is only slightly in excess of the figure for the comparable period in the previous year, and may indicate that savings are continuing to level off. To be on the conservative side, the Corporation has estimated that the growth in savings in 1948 will be only 83 percent of the 1947 period. Based upon this assumption, the Corporation could expect a premium income of $8,711,400. Any funds not needed for the payment of insurance and projected losses will be invested in United States Government obligations or obligations guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States, and will produce an estimated income of approximately $4,144,600. (See exhibit B.)

Assuming that the rate of growth of savings invested in insured institutions will show a further decline in the fiscal year 1949 but that there will be some increase of the aggregate outstanding accounts as a result of the granting of membership to some presently uninsured institutions, the Corporation estimates a premium income of $9,773,700 in 1949. The investment of cash not required for estimated losses and payment of insurance should increase the annual interest earned by the Corporation to $4,199,600. The effect of these estimates on the condition of the Corporation may be observed in exhibits A and B.

Operating Results

During the fiscal year 1947, the operations of the Corporation resulted in a net income of $11,107,431 after provision for all losses and adjustment of valuation reserves. In accordance with section 404 (a) of the National Housing Act, all of this income was transferred to reserves. However, for the fiscal year 1948, it is estimated that the net income will amount to only $8,646,900 due to projected losses on contributions of $1,452,000 and provision for losses of $2,075,000 on accounts subrogated or pending and unclaimed in connection with the payment of insurance. Although the assumptions for the fiscal year 1949 indicate similar losses for contributions and as provision for losses on subrogated accounts, it is estimated that income will be sufficient to meet such losses as well as provide additions to reserves. As of June 30, 1949, it is estimated that reserves will aggregate $96,726,500 as compared with $78,457,625 as of June 30, 1947. (See exhibits B and C.)

Financial Condition

Assets.—As of June 30, 1947, the assets of the Corporation totaled $182,400,370 as reflected in exhibit C. Provision has been made for specific reserves for any assets with an actual value below that recorded on the books. To maintain the highest degree of liquidity consistent with safety and the rate of return, all funds of the Corporation not required for current operations are invested in obligations of the United States or in obligations guaranteed as to interest and principal by the United States. As of June 30, 1947, the Corporation held Government obligations of $178,230,908 representing 98 percent of total assets. By June 30, 1949, it is estimated that Government obligations may increase to approximately $183,729,000.

Other assets consist principally of insurance premiums receivable and insured accounts subrogated through payment of insurance. To June 30, 1947, the Corporation has been subrogated to accounts in the amount of $6,695,845, of which $25,040 has been charged off and $6,298,743 received in liquidating dividends. Of the balance amounting to $372,062, it is estimated that $290,445 will not be recovered for which an allowance for losses appears on exhibit C.

Liabilities.—The Corporation has no outstanding obligations except current liabilities. Deferred income represents premiums billed for insurance of accounts to be taken into earnings over the insurance year of each institution.

Reserves.—As of June 30, 1947, the legal reserve of the Corporation amounted to $42,457,625. As of the same date, the reserve of 5 percent of all insured accounts and creditor obligations specified by section 404 (a) of title IV of the National Housing Act would have amounted to $337,455,450. Insured accounts and creditor obligations of the 2,529 insured member institutions amounted to $6,749,109,000.

The special reserve for contingencies of $36 million as of June 30, 1947, is equivalent to the unpaid cumulative dividends on the capital stock of the Corporation since June 30, 1935, at a rate of 3 percent.

Recognizing that the protection of insurance is a secondary cushion against loss to investors in insured institutions since the primary protection is afforded by the soundness of the assets and the management of the associations, it is believed that the financial condition of the Corporation is fundamentally sound.

Bond authorization.—The projected program for 1949, as presented in exhibit A, does not include the issuance of any obligations although the Corporation has authority to borrow money and to issue notes, bonds, debentures, and other obligations, in accordance with provisions of title IV of the National Housing Act. In the event of economic stress it may be necessary for the Corporation to issue obligations to secure sufficient funds to meet its insurance liability. Under existing authority, securities must be sold in the open market which, during a period of economic stress, may not offer favorable sale conditions. Recognizing the importance to the public interest of the Corporation's capacity to meet insurance claims promptly, it would seem desirable to give the Corporation the right to sell debentures to the Treasury in times of emergency.

Effect on Government Budget

For fiscal year 1948, total corporate receipts are estimated at $17,895,100 and total expenditures from checking accounts at $17,936,737, resulting in total budgetary expenditures estimated at $41,637. For fiscal year 1949, total corporate receipts are estimated at $16,734,200 and total expenditures from checking accounts at $16,678,900, resulting in total budgetary receipts of $55,300 (schedule A–1).

Administrative Expenses

Representing a minor part of total expenditures and only 4.54 percent of estimated income for 1949, the request for an authorization for administrative expenses is the heart of the whole program of the Corporation. Although the Corporation is permitted to consider the cost of personnel engaged to handle loss cases as a non-administrative expense, without a nucleus of competent and experienced personnel to keep informed about the risk and to restrain unfavorable developments, the Corporation could face considerable embarrassment in dealing with the public.

For fiscal year 1949, the Corporation is requesting an authorization of $635,000 of which only $306,629 is for salaries of the Corporation's own staff. Most of the balance covers payment for the Corporation's proportionate share in the support of the Home Loan Bank Board and of supervision of insured institutions by the latter. The estimate of $635,000 will permit the Corporation to restore the number of personnel deemed necessary to maintain a nucleus staff to prevent the incurring of losses or to deal with them as they develop, as well as to permit the Corporation to resume normal activities in the extension of insurance of accounts to thousands of small investors.

ESTIMATES OF AUTHORIZATION RELATING TO CORPORATE FUNDS

NOTE.—The text of general authorizing language, as incorporated in the Government Corporations Appropriation Act, 1948, and as proposed for 1949, will be found at the end of the "Summary Statements and General Language" of part III of the Budget.

Administrative Expenses, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation—

Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation: Not to exceed [$532,000] $635,000 shall be available for administrative expenses, including health service program as authorized by [the Act of August 8, 1946 (Public Law 658), and the use of services and facilities of the Federal Home Loan banks, Federal Reserve banks, and agencies of the Government, including the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration and the Home Owners' Loan Corporation] law (5 U. S. C. 150), which shall be on an accrual basis and shall be exclusive of interest paid, depreciation, properly capitalized expenditures, [and] expenses in connection with liquidation of insured institutions, liquidation or handling of assets of or derived from insured institutions, payment of insurance, and action for or toward the avoidance, termination, or minimizing of losses in the case of specific insured institutions, and legal fees and expenses, and said Corporation may utilize and may make payment for services and facilities of the Federal home loan banks, the Federal Reserve banks, the Home Loan Bank Board, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, and other agencies of the Government: Provided, That notwithstanding any other provisions of this Act, except for the limitation in amount hereinbefore specified, the administrative expenses and other obligations of said Corporation shall be incurred, allowed, and paid in accordance with title IV of the Act of June 27, 1934, as amended (12 U. S. C. 1724–1730). (Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1947; The Government Corporations Appropriation Act, 1948.)

Purpose and Financial Organization

The Home Owners' Loan Corporation was established under the act of June 13, 1933 (48 Stat. 128), as an emergency instrumentality of the Federal Government for the purpose of refinancing the mortgages of distressed urban home owners and to stem the flood of foreclosures resulting from the unprecedented economic collapse of the early Thirties.

The authority of the Corporation to acquire mortgages of distressed home owners and other obligations and liens secured by real estate in exchange for cash or bonds of the Corporation expired June 12, 1936. Since that time the principal function of the Corporation has been to service the loans and to take over properties where necessary and dispose of them to the best interests of the Corporation. Through this process the Corporation is and has been proceeding with a rapid and orderly liquidation of its assets. Its objectives are to assist as many borrowers as possible to preserve and ultimately own their homes free and clear of debt and to conclude its operations, if possible, without loss to the Federal Government and the taxpayers.

All activities of the Corporation from its inception to date have been financed from funds received from the following sources: (a) sale of capital stock, (b) issuance of bonds, and (c) income received from its operations.

The Corporation's authorized capital, as provided for in section 4b of the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 amounted to $200 million. The total amount was subscribed and paid for by the Secretary of the Treasury. Under the terms of the original act, bonds guaranteed as to interest only by the Federal Government were authorized for issue in an aggregate amount of $2 billion. By an amendment approved April 27, 1934 (48 Stat. 643), bonds of the Corporation were guaranteed by the Federal Government both as to principal and interest. A subsequent amendment contained in title V of the National Housing Act, approved June 27, 1934 (48 Stat. 1246), increased the authorized issue of bonds to $3 billion, exclusive of certain bonds for refunding purposes. By a further amendment in the Act of May 28, 1935 (49 Stat. 293), the authorized issue was further increased to $4,750,000,000, exclusive of certain bonds issued for refunding purposes.

Of the total amount authorized, $2,688,215,850 was exchanged for mortgages, $100 million was invested in the capital stock of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation under authority of an act of Congress (48 Stat. 1246), and $701,237,700 was sold to provide capital, making a total of $3,489,453,550 of bonds issued for value. As of June 30, 1947, there remained a balance of $1,260,546,450 available for issue.

Analysis of Budget Programs

The liquidating activities of the Corporation at the present time consist of the servicing of the remaining mortgage loans and vendee accounts and the acquisition, management, and disposition of such properties as it may be necessary to take over. These two activities are discussed below under the headings, "Mortgage loans and vendee accounts," and "Properties."

The budgetary requirements of the Corporation for the fiscal year 1949 have been calculated on the basis of past experience and predicated upon a continuance of the favorable economic conditions which it has enjoyed during the war period. Full employment, higher wages and incomes, and generally improved business conditions have contributed materially to the gains recorded. However, recognition must be given to changes which might occur in the Nation's economy and the extent to which such changes will affect the Corporation's activities presently restricted to realization and liquidation. The gains which have been made to date should not be lost through inadequacy of manpower or insufficiency of funds with which to accomplish the purposes for which the Corporation was created and to discharge its duties properly and efficiently.

Mortgage loans and vendee accounts.—Mortgage loans are original loans made by the Corporation during its lending period from June 13, 1933, through June 12, 1936. Vendee accounts have resulted from sale of the Corporation-owned properties acquired through foreclosure.

The Corporation has taken full advantage of the improved economic conditions prevailing by encouraging its borrowers:

1. To pay off their indebtedness to the Corporation in full and become the owners of their homes free of debt.
2. To pay more each month on their loan accounts than is called for under their contractual obligations and thus build up in good times a substantial equity to serve as a bulwark against subsequent periods of unemployment or depression.

It has also exerted its best efforts to reduce the number of delinquent accounts to the minimum.

During the fiscal year 1947, payment in full was completed on a total of 79,217 accounts, having a dollar value of $255,841,000. These accounts consisted of 62,305 original loans having a dollar value of $191,655,000 and 16,912 vendee accounts having a dollar value of $64,186,000.

Based on the experience of prior years it is estimated that payment in full will be completed on 60,000 loans, both original and vendee, during the fiscal year 1948 and on 45,000 during fiscal year 1949. During the fiscal year 1947, $16,320,000 was collected from borrowers in excess of their contractual obligations, exclusive of loans which became fully paid. Accounts delinquent 3 months or more were less at the end of the 1947 fiscal year by 725 than the number reported at the end of the preceding fiscal year.

It is essentially the duty and responsibility of the Corporation's borrowers to pay their own taxes, insurance, and the cost of repairs. The establishment of the tax and insurance account for the convenience of many of its borrowers whereby they include with their monthly payments an amount equal to one-twelfth of their annual taxes and one-thirty-sixth of a 3-year insurance premium has materially assisted them in discharging their tax and insurance obligations without undue burden. Funds held for borrowers for these purposes appear in the statement of financial condition under trust and deposit liabilities. (See exhibit C.)

In order to protect its interest the Corporation must pay the taxes and insurance for those borrowers who have not availed themselves of the advantages of establishing a tax and insurance account and are financially unable to meet such payments when due. It is also required to make necessary repairs for those borrowers who are financially unable to do so themselves. During the fiscal year 1947, $1,674,578 was paid and charged to borrowers' accounts as advances. Based on the record of past experience and predicated upon the continuation of the same conditions, it is estimated that during the fiscal year 1948 it will be required to pay $1,373,000. During the fiscal year 1949 it is estimated that it will be required to advance $1,103,000. (See exhibit A.)

Repayments of principal of loans outstanding, both mortgage loans and vendee accounts, during the fiscal year 1947 amounted to $180,122,228. For the fiscal year 1948, it is estimated that such repayments will amount to $137,530,000. For the fiscal year 1949, it is estimated that repayments of principal of loans outstanding, both mortgage loans and vendee accounts, will amount to $113,125,000. (See exhibit A.)

Section 4k of the act, as amended, provides that all payments upon the principal of the loans made by the Corporation shall under regulations made by the Corporation be applied to the retirement of bonds of the Corporation. Certain other receipts, such as amounts received by the Corporation from the repurchase of shares purchased by the Corporation in savings and loan associations, are also applied to the retirement of bonds of the Corporation.

During the fiscal year 1947, $208 million was applied to the retirement of bonds held by the United States Treasury, and $2,135,175 was applied to the retirement of bonds held by the public. During the fiscal year 1948, it is estimated that $160 million will be applied to the retirement of bonds held by the Treasury and $1.5 million will be applied against the bonds held by the public. During the fiscal year 1949, it is estimated that the sum of $124 million will be applied against the retirement of bonds held by the United States Treasury and $1 million will be applied against bonds held by the public. The bonds of the Corporation now held by the public represent issues which have matured and which it is anticipated will be presented for payment during the fiscal years stated. (See exhibit A.)

Properties.—During the fiscal year 1947 the Corporation disposed of 173 properties for which it received $734,670, of which $581,437 was represented by purchase money obligations acquired and $153,233 was represented by cash. These properties were carried on the books of the Corporation at a capitalized value of $856,342. The number of properties remaining on hand totaled 70. During the fiscal year 1948 it is estimated that the number of properties on hand and in process of acquiring title will increase by 60 new acquisitions and decrease by an estimated 60 sales, leaving on hand and in process as of June 30, 1948, 70 properties. It is estimated that the Corporation will receive $250,000 for the estimated 60 sales, of which $50,000 will be represented by purchase money obligations acquired and $200,000 will be represented by cash. During the fiscal year 1949, it is estimated that the 70 properties on hand and in process at the beginning of the year will increase by 50 new acquisitions and decrease by an estimated 55 sales, leaving on hand and in process as of June 30, 1949, 65 properties. It is estimated that the Corporation will receive $220,000 for the estimated 55 sales, of which $40,000 will be represented by purchase money obligations acquired and $180,000 will be represented by cash. (See exhibit A.)

After acquisition of property by the Corporation, it is generally necessary to make certain expenditures to put the property in condition for sale. Such expenditures are capitalized. During the fiscal year 1948 the number of properties owned will be materially reduced and it is estimated that $40,000 will be required for property expenditures. During the fiscal year 1949, it is estimated that the sum of $27,000 will be required. (See exhibit A.)

Foreclosure costs which, like property expenditures, are capitalized, amounted to $28,304 during the fiscal year 1947. For the fiscal year 1948 it is estimated that $47,000 will be required and for the fiscal year 1949, $30,000. The estimates here presented are calculated on the basis of the reduced number of loans outstanding. Consideration has also been given to the increasing equity of the borrowers in their homes. (See exhibit A.)

Operating Results

During the fiscal year 1947, the operations of the Corporation resulted in a net income of $19,539,534, after provisions for all losses and adjustment of valuation reserves. Due to the normal liquidation of the Corporation's assets, it is but natural to anticipate that its net income will be proportionately less each year. For the fiscal year 1948, it is estimated that the net income will amount to $14,837,202. For the fiscal year 1949 it is estimated that the operations of the Corporation will result in a net income of $11,008,000. The anticipated net income for the fiscal years 1948 and 1949 will decrease the Corporation's deficit from $62,146,766 as of June 30, 1947, to $36,301,564 as of June 30, 1949. (See exhibits B and C.)

Financial Condition

Amounts paid by borrowers into their respective tax and insurance accounts are allowed to accumulate until payments therefrom become due. As of June 30, 1947, the sum of $16,553,773 deposited by borrowers, was held for this purpose. As of June 30, 1948, it is estimated that the balance of this fund will be $12,595,914 and as of June 30, 1949, it will be $9,095,914. A portion of these funds, pending the payment of taxes and/or insurance, have been utilized by purchasing short-term investments in United States Government securities. On June 30, 1947, this investment amounted to $15.2 million. It is estimated that the sum of $11.2 million will be invested at the end of the fiscal year 1948 and the sum of $7.7 million will be invested at June 30, 1949. (See exhibit C.)

Section 4n of the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, as added by the Act of May 28, 1935 (49 Stat. 293), authorizes the Home Owners' Loan Corporation to make certain investments, including investments in both Federal and State-chartered savings and loan associations. On June 30, 1947, investments in these associations amounted to $12,263,750. During the fiscal year 1948, it is estimated that repurchases of shares by these associations will reduce the amount of this investment to $5,078,750. During the fiscal year 1949, it is estimated that further repurchases by these associations will reduce the amount of this investment at June 30, 1949, to $2,078,750. (See exhibit C.)

Mortgage loans and vendee accounts.—On June 30, 1947, there were 351,127 mortgage loans and vendee accounts outstanding, amounting to $557,018,077. Of this number, 8,992 were delinquent in their payments to the extent of 3 months or more. As of June 30, 1948, it is estimated that the number of outstanding accounts will be reduced to 291,163, amounting to $420,936,077. At the end of the fiscal year 1949 it is estimated that the number of outstanding accounts will aggregate 246,193, amounting to $308,973,077. The above figures represent the value of the outstanding accounts before the application of reserve for losses. (See exhibit C.)

Acquired security.—As of June 30, 1947, there were 70 properties owned and in process of acquiring title, having a capitalized value of $203,027. Based upon a continuation of favorable economic conditions during the fiscal years 1948 and 1949, it is estimated that there will be as of June 30, 1948, a total of 70 properties having a capitalized value of $149,027. On June 30, 1949, it is estimated that there will be 65 properties owned and in process of acquisition having a capitalized value of $124,027. (See exhibit C.)

Interagency proprietary interests.—Section 402b of the National Housing Act, approved June 27, 1934 (48 Stat. 1246), authorized and directed the Corporation to subscribe for the total amount of the capital stock of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. Pursuant thereto, the Corporation invested the sum of $100 million. It is anticipated that there will be no change in this proprietary interest in 1948 or 1949. (See exhibit C.)

Bonds outstanding.—Section 4k of the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, as amended, provides that all payments upon principal of loans shall, under regulations made by the Corporation, be applied to the retirement of its bonds. In pursuance thereof, funds received, representing amounts realized on the principal of loans, including amounts realized on the sale of properties and repurchases of investments in savings and loan associations, are deposited in the bond retirement fund. Of the total amount of bonds issued for value, there remained outstanding as of June 30, 1947, the sum of $532,976,450, of which $529 million was held by the United States Treasury and $3,976,450 representing matured issues not yet presented for retirement was held by the public. Because of the liquidating status of the Corporation, it is not contemplated that it will increase its outstanding bonds during the fiscal years 1948 and 1949. On the contrary, it is estimated that as of June 30, 1948, the total amount of bonds outstanding will be $371,476,450. As of June 30, 1949, it is estimated that a total of $246,476,450 will be outstanding. (See exhibit C.)

Return of capital funds to the Treasury.—On June 30, 1947, the Corporation's deficit amounted to $62,146,766. By the application of net income after provisions for losses, it is estimated that this deficit will be reduced to $47,309,564 as of June 30, 1948. It is estimated that this deficit will be further reduced to $36,301,564 as of June 30, 1949. Under the above-stated circumstances, the Corporation does not contemplate the return of any capital in 1948 or 1949. Moreover, since practically all of its acquired properties have now been disposed of, the major portion of its net income will continue to be applied against its deficit. For this reason, it does not recommend that its actual or estimated impairment of capital be restored by the use of Treasury funds. (See exhibit C.)

Effect on Government Budget

For fiscal year 1948, total corporate receipts are estimated at $171,172,000 and total expenditures from checking accounts, after payment into miscellaneous receipts of the Treasury of $4,435,000 from general account receipts covering interest on obligations, are estimated at $13,488,490, resulting in net corporate receipts of $157,683,510. To this amount must be added $2,381,471 covering the value of the Corporation-owned building transferred to the Public Buildings Administration and an adjustment for trust account expenditures of $1.5 million representing redemption of debt to the public. Net budgetary receipts for the year are thus estimated at $161,564,981.

For fiscal year 1949, total corporate receipts are estimated at $136,272,000 and total expenditures from checking accounts, after payment into miscellaneous receipts of the Treasury of $3,050,000 from general account receipts covering interest on obligations, and after adjusting for trust account expenditures of $1 million representing redemption of debt to the public, are estimated at $10,064,800, resulting in net budgetary receipts of $127,207,200. (Schedule A–1.)

Administrative Expenses

This expense covers the staff in over-all supervision of the program carried on by the Corporation. It does not include expenses (including services performed on a force account, contract or fee basis, but not including other personal services) in connection with the acquisition, protection, operation, maintenance, improvement, or disposition of real or personal property belonging to the Corporation or in which it has an interest, or legal fees and expenses.

During the fiscal year 1947, the administrative staff consisted of an average of 1,078.8 positions which with other related costs of administration resulted in the total expenditure of $4,343,518. The liquidation of the Corporation's assets permits a reduction in its supervisory staff during the fiscal year 1948 to an estimated 740.2 average positions with estimated expenditures of $3,043,334, and a further reduction to an estimated 573 average positions for the fiscal year 1949 which with other related costs of administration will amount to $2.5 million. For further details see statement of income and expenses. (Exhibit B.)

FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION

Purpose and Financial Organization

The Federal Housing Administration was established as a noncorporate agency June 27, 1934, under the provisions of the National Housing Act (12 U. S. C. 1701). Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1947 placed the Administration under the newly created Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The purpose of the Administration is to improve housing standards and home-financing practices through insurance of home mortgages and home improvement loans. These insurance programs, by strengthening and stabilizing the home mortgage market and stimulating the flow of private capital into home financing, are designed to enable private enterprise to meet, on a sound economic basis, a greater part of housing needs than would otherwise be possible.

The Federal Housing Administration is tightening the administration of its insurance programs, especially its emergency program under title VI of the National Housing Act, so as to minimize any inflationary effects they might have in the home financing field. The Administration also is formulating proposals, including recommendations for amending basic legislation, to provide for an orderly transition from operations under emergency insurance programs to operations based upon standards of long-term economic soundness. The Budget for the fiscal year 1949 reflects the effect of these actions, except for those which will require amendment of existing legislation.

Section 4 of the National Housing Act authorized and directed the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make available to the Administration funds necessary to carry out the provisions of the act. Pursuant to this authorization, a net total of $80.3 million had been provided for this purpose as of June 30, 1947. This amount is reflected as paid-in capital in exhibit C. Obligations of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in an equivalent amount have been canceled by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The act authorizes the collection of certain fees and premiums in connection with the Administration's insurance activities. The earned surplus which has been built up out of this and other income including interest on investments, after payment of expenses and dividends, amounted to $72.1 million on June 30, 1947, as shown in the comparative statement of financial condition, exhibit C.

The financial transactions and status of the Administration are classified in its accounting records under six distinct funds and accounts, as follows: The title I insurance fund, the title I claims account, the mutual mortgage insurance fund, the housing insurance fund, the war housing insurance fund, and the authorization for salaries and expenses. The nature of these funds and accounts is briefly stated below under the heading, "Financial condition." Financial statements included in this budget (exhibits A, B, C; schedule A–1) reflect the combined operations and status of all of these funds and accounts.

Analysis of Budget Programs

The Administration is operating under three titles of the National Housing Act: Title I, which authorizes partial insurance of character loans made for renovation, improvement, and within certain limitations, construction of both residential and nonresidential properties; title II, which provides for insurance of home mortgages up to 80 and 90 percent of the appraised long-term value of both new and existing small homes and new rental housing projects; and, title VI, which parallels title II but provides for appraisals on a current cost basis and higher coverage for emergency housing. Title VI, which will expire March 31, 1948, under provisions of existing law, also authorizes the Administration to insure loans to finance the manufacture of housing.

The following legislation has been enacted since the Administration's budget for fiscal year 1948 was considered by the Congress:

Public Law 120, approved June 26, 1947.—This act extended to June 30, 1949, the authorization to insure under title I. The previous expiration date was June 30, 1947.

Public Law 129, approved June 30, 1947.—Section 2 of this act extended to March 31, 1948, the authorization to insure mortgages on new construction under sections 603 and 608 of title VI. The previous expiration date of this title was June 30, 1947.

Section 3 of this act added section 609 to the National Housing Act, authorizing the insurance of loans to finance the manufacture of housing. While commitments may be issued only through March 31, 1948, the act makes provision for extension of insurance contracts on this type of loan for periods of 2 years from their original dates.

Public Law 366, approved August 5, 1947.—Section 1 of this act increased the authorization for title VI insurance (exclusive of $750 million under section 610) from $3.8 billion to $4 billion which the President was authorized to increase, and subsequently did increase, to $4.2 billion. This authorization was further increased by Public Law 394, approved December 27, 1947, as stated more fully below.

Section 2 of Public Law 366 added section 610 to the National Housing Act, authorizing insurance under sections 603 and 608 of any mortgage executed in connection with the sale by the Government of permanent type housing acquired or constructed under the Lanham Act and certain related war housing acts. The aggregate amount of principal obligations of mortgages insured pursuant to section 610 may not exceed $750 million. This authorization is in addition to the $4.2 billion limitation established for new construction under sections 603 and 608. There is no limit specified as to the time when any mortgage may be insured under section 610.

Public Law 394, approved December 27, 1947.—Section 1 of this act increased the title VI insurance authorization to $4,450 million and authorized a further increase by the President to $4,950 million. Section 2 directed the Administration to make its estimates of necessary current cost approximate as closely as possible actual costs of efficient building operations.

The very recent enactment of this law has prevented taking its effect on work load, income, and expense into account in the Administration's budget as here presented. When the amount of resulting additional requirements for salaries and expenses during the current fiscal year can be determined with reasonable accuracy, a supplemental estimate will be presented to the Congress.

The effect of these new legislative acts (other than Public Law 394) has been to reshape the work program of the Administration for fiscal year 1948.

Financial results of the Administration's activities are reflected in "Exhibit A, comparative statement of sources and application of funds."

Fees collected in connection with new insurance applied for, initial premiums on newly insured loans, and renewal and prepayment premiums on insurance on the books, produced income of $39.7 million during fiscal year 1947 and are estimated to provide $46.5 million in fiscal year 1948 and $43.6 million in fiscal year 1949. Such income, together with income from all other sources, including interest on United States Government securities owned by the mutual mortgage, housing, and war housing insurance funds, provided total income of $43.5 million during fiscal year 1947, and are estimated to provide total income of $50.8 million and $48.2 million during the current and succeeding fiscal years, respectively, as shown in exhibit A under "Funds provided."

Funds provided by realization of assets during fiscal year 1947 amounted to $13.7 million, consisting principally of proceeds of redemption of United States Government securities, sale of security acquired as a result of defaults of mortgagors or other borrowers, and recoveries on acquired security. In fiscal year 1948, funds provided from these sources are estimated at $11.6 million. In fiscal year 1949, when it is estimated that no United States Government securities will be redeemed, it is estimated that realization of assets will provide $6.6 million, largely from recoveries on acquired security.

Funds provided by borrowings, resulting from the conveyance by mortgagee lending institutions of mortgaged properties to the Administration in exchange for debentures, amounted in fiscal year 1947 to $2.8 million and are estimated at $4.5 million in fiscal year 1948 and $7 million in fiscal year 1949.

The $60.9 million of funds provided by fiscal year 1947 operations were applied as follows: $28.4 million to acquisition of assets, including purchase of $22.5 million of United States Government securities and $5.8 million for acquired security or collateral; $16.7 million to meet expenses, largely administrative; $10.5 million to retirement of debentures; $1 million to repayment of capital to the United States Treasury; and $4.3 million to the payment of participation dividends. During fiscal year 1948, it is estimated that $14.5 million will be applied to purchase of United States Government securities; $11.7 million to acquisition of security or collateral; $20.4 million to expenses, largely administrative; $10.4 million to retirement of debentures; and $5.2 million to participation dividends. During fiscal year 1949, purchase of United States Government securities is estimated to involve $8.4 million, and acquisition of security or collateral, $14.3 million; while $19.4 million will be applied to expenses, $10 million to retirement of debentures, and $5.7 million to participation dividends.

Participation dividends are declared out of group account surpluses under the mutuality provision of title II of the National Housing Act. Increases in the amount of these dividends in fiscal years 1948 and 1949 are anticipated because of the additional group accounts expected to attain a participating status. Title II, section 205 of the National Housing Act directs that, on mortgages which are paid in full, these dividends be paid from mutual mortgage insurance fund group accounts which have attained a credit balance. Under the provisions of section 205, mortgages insured under section 203 of title II having similar maturities and risk ratings are grouped together. Fees, premiums, and other income relating to the mortgages in the group are credited to the group account and all expenses and losses on such mortgages are charged against the group account. When the income of a group exceeds the expenses, the resulting surplus balance is available for distribution to mortgagors in that group when their loans are paid in full.

Operating Results

Income and expenses.—During the fiscal year 1947, the operations of the Federal Housing Administration under all insurance programs, resulted in a net income of $28.1 million after providing for expenses, losses, and adjustment of valuation reserves. It is estimated that net income in the fiscal year 1948 will amount to $27.3 million, and in fiscal year 1949 will total $25.2 million (exhibit B).

Gross income, principally derived from appraisal fees, insurance premiums, and interest on investments, is estimated to increase from $43.5 million in fiscal year 1947 to $50.8 million in fiscal year 1948, due to a larger volume of new insurance and of insurance on the books. Gross revenues are expected to decline to $48.2 million in fiscal year 1949 because of a reduction in new mortgage insurance volume.

Total expenses are expected to increase from $19.1 million in fiscal year 1947 to $22.5 million in the fiscal year 1948 and to $21.4 million in fiscal year 1949, leaving net income before adjustment of valuation reserves of $24.4 million for fiscal year 1947, $28.4 million for fiscal year 1948, and $26.7 million for fiscal year 1949.

The downward adjustment of reserves for losses in fiscal year 1947 in the amount of $3.7 million, shown in exhibit B, was occasioned principally by a reduction in the number of acquired properties and defaulted title I notes on hand. The estimated increases in these reserves, of $1 million in fiscal year 1948 and $1.5 million in fiscal year 1949, result from estimated increases in acquired properties and defaulted title I notes on hand.

Unreserved surplus (or deficit).—The Administration's deficit of $41 million as of June 30, 1946 (exhibits B and C) results from title I operations during the fiscal years 1935 through 1939, when the National Housing Act did not provide for collection of premiums on title I insurance. During this period, funds made available by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and constituting the paid-in capital of the Administration were being used to meet title I expenses and losses. As a consequence of action of Congress effective July 1, 1939, authorizing collection of premiums on title I insurance, operations of all programs of the Administration have, for several years, been carried out on a self-sustaining basis. During this time all losses and expenses of operating the Administration have been paid from its earnings. In addition to providing for allocation of appropriate sums to the various surplus reserves and for payment of participation dividends under title II, earnings have decreased the deficit to $27.3 million as of June 30, 1947. It is estimated that net earnings during fiscal years 1948 and 1949 will again be sufficient to cover these requirements and decrease the deficit to $9.4 million by the end of fiscal year 1948, and to produce an unreserved earned surplus of $9 million by the end of fiscal year 1949 (exhibit B).

The earned surplus of all Administration funds, after adjustment for participation dividends, stood at $72.1 million at the end of fiscal year 1947, and is estimated at $94.3 million and $113.8 million by the end of fiscal years 1948 and 1949, respectively (exhibit C).

Financial Condition

The comparative statement of financial condition (exhibit C) includes the assets, liabilities, and capital of the (1) title I insurance fund and title I claims account (covering insurance of property improvement and other title I loans), (2) mutual mortgage insurance fund (covering insurance of mortgages on one- to four-family homes under title II), (3) housing insurance fund (covering insurance of mortgages on rental housing projects under title II), (4) war housing insurance fund (covering insurance of mortgages on small homes and rental housing projects under the war and emergency housing programs under title VI), and (5) the authorization for salaries and expenses.

Assets.—As of June 30, 1947, the assets of all Administration funds totaled $196.5 million and are estimated to reach $211.4 million and $227.4 million at the end of the fiscal years 1948 and 1949, respectively, as reflected in exhibit C. The principal assets consist of cash, investments, loans receivable, and acquired security or collateral.

Liabilities.—Of the $44.1 million total liabilities at June 30, 1947, $38.4 million represent debentures payable issued in connection with settlement of claims for insurance, and the remainder are current liabilities. It is estimated that by the end of fiscal year 1948 total liabilities will amount to $37.5 million of which $32.4 million will represent debentures payable, and by the end of fiscal year 1949 total liabilities will be $34.2 million of which $29.5 million will represent debentures payable.

Capital.—The total capital of all Administration funds amounted to $152.4 million at June 30, 1947. It is estimated that it will increase to $174 million by the end of the fiscal year 1948 and to $193.1 million by the end of the fiscal year 1949 (exhibit C).

Paid-in capital.—The paid-in surplus of $15 million at June 30, 1947, is expected to remain the same for the two following fiscal years. This item is composed of the original allocations by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation of $10 million to establish the mutual mortgage insurance fund and $5 million to establish the war housing insurance fund, in accordance with the provisions of the National Housing Act, as amended.

Expended appropriations amounted to $65.3 million at June 30, 1947, and are estimated at $64.7 million and $64.3 million as of the end of the next two fiscal years. These amounts represent funds advanced by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to meet salaries and expenses of the Administration in the early years of its organization and to pay claims on title I notes, pursuant to the provisions of the National Housing Act of June 27, 1934, as amended, and subsequent appropriation acts. Obligations of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation have been canceled by the Secretary of the Treasury in amounts equivalent to the Corporation's advances to the Federal Housing Administration. At June 30, 1947, the expended appropriations consisted of $42.7 million for salaries and expenses of the Administration and $22.6 million for title I insurance claims (after adjustment by recoveries credited to miscellaneous receipts of the Treasury). As income earned by the insurance funds is currently sufficient to meet these expenditures, no additional paid-in capital is expected to be required in the foreseeable future. The estimates of expended appropriations at the end of the fiscal years 1948 and 1949 have been reduced by the amounts of anticipated recoveries on title I claims which will be covered into miscellaneous receipts of the Treasury.

Earned surplus.—The earned surplus of the mutual mortgage insurance fund, all of which is reserved, is shown in the three accounts entitled "Group Accounts," "General Reinsurance Account," and "Earmarked Reserves."

The earned surplus of group accounts is estimated to increase from $85.4 million at June 30, 1947, to $90.3 million at June 30, 1948, and $92.5 million at June 30, 1949. The earned surplus of group accounts is available for the payment of insurance losses, administrative expenses, and participation dividends.

The general reinsurance account was established with the original allocation of $10 million from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (which amount is reflected in exhibit C under paid-in surplus) and is increased periodically by income on investments and the transfer, upon maturity of each group account, of 10 percent of all premiums collected for the group account. At June 30, 1947, there was a reserve of $12.9 million, representing 10 percent of premiums collected, which will be transferred to the general reinsurance account at such times as the various group accounts are terminated (usually upon maturity of all mortgages in the group). However, under the act, these premiums may only be transferred to the general reinsurance account as the group accounts are terminated.

The general reinsurance account is available to absorb losses or expenses of any group accounts which lack sufficient funds of their own, and to meet any general expenses with respect to mutual mortgage insurance not charged against group accounts. It is estimated that earnings on investments and the transfer of premiums from maturing groups will increase the earned surplus in the general reinsurance account from $0.4 million at June 30, 1947, to $1.1 million at June 30, 1948, and $1.8 million at June 30, 1949.

Earmarked reserves consist of amounts which have been charged against group and general reinsurance accounts to meet salaries and expenses of the Administration. The balance in this reserve may be used only for salaries and expenses of the Administration under authority of annual appropriation acts.

The deficit of $27.3 million as of June 30, 1947, has been discussed in full under "Operating results." It is expected to be eliminated during fiscal year 1949 and replaced by an unreserved surplus of $9 million by the end of that fiscal year.

Effect on Government Budget

The effect of Federal Housing Administration operations on the Government Budget is shown in schedule A–1.

Budgetary receipts of $1.1 million were deposited to miscellaneous receipts during fiscal year 1947. Estimated budgetary receipts to be similarly deposited during fiscal years 1948 and 1949 amount to $547,700 and $360,800, respectively. These receipts consist principally of recoveries on defaulted title I loans.

Budgetary expenditures during fiscal year 1947 amounted to an expenditure credit of $1.1 million. Expenditure credits estimated at $9.2 million in fiscal year 1948 and $6.3 million in fiscal year 1949 result from estimated excesses of receipts over expenditures in both fiscal years.

Administrative Expenses

The annual limitation covers the salaries and other administrative expenses of the central and field offices.

For the fiscal year 1949 administrative expenses in connection with the Administration's regular insuring activities are estimated in the amount of $19 million to be financed out of income of the four insurance funds as follows: Title I insurance fund, $1.9 million; mutual mortgage insurance fund, $12.4 million; housing insurance fund, $0.6 million; war housing insurance fund, $4.1 million. An additional $113,371 included in total estimated obligations is for services to be performed for other Government agencies on a reimbursable basis.

PUBLIC HOUSING ADMINISTRATION

INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

The Public Housing Administration is one of the three constituent units of the Housing and Home Finance Agency established by Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1947, effective July 27, 1947. The responsibilities of the Administration may be classified into three groups:

1. Housing programs transferred directly by Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1947, including—

(a) The program originally administered by the United States Housing Authority. This consists of: (1) The federally aided low-rent housing program under the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U. S. C. 1401); (2) the slum-clearance projects developed by the Public Works Administration under the National Industrial Recovery Act; and (3) the war housing developed under the defense amendment to the United States Housing Act (42 U. S. C. 1501), which authorized the use of low-rent funds to provide housing for defense workers. Financial and other operations are shown in the budget for United States Housing Act program. This budget contains the annual appropriation request to Congress to cover payments which the Federal Government has contracted to pay to local authorities, in the form of annual contributions to assist in financing the operations of locally owned projects to house families in the lowest-income groups.

(b) The program of the former National Housing Agency with respect to nonfarm housing and other properties remaining under its jurisdiction pursuant to section 2 (a) (3) of the Farmers' Home Administration Act of 1946 (Public Law 731, 79th Cong., approved Aug. 14, 1946). This includes subsistence homesteads projects, or groups of homes with garden plots for low-income families, and three greenbelt towns, or model suburban developments for lower-salaried families. A separate budget is presented for the subsistence homestead and greenbelt towns program. This program is in process of liquidation.

(c) The program involving the liquidation and dissolution of the Defense Homes Corporation, which was originally formed to provide permanent housing in centers of war activity. This program appears in a business-type budget bearing the same title.

2. Execution under the supervision of the Housing and Home Finance Administrator of delegated operations under functions transferred to the Administrator under section 5 (c) of Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1947:

(a) Final settlement of development contracts, management, and disposition of public war housing projects under titles I and III, and section 401 of the act of October 14, 1940 (54 Stat. 1125), as amended; projects developed with funds appropriated to the Departments of the Army and Navy (except projects located on military or naval posts, reservations, or bases) under the act of September 9, 1940 (54 Stat. 872), as amended; and projects developed by various agencies designated to provide temporary shelter under the acts of March 1, 1941, May 24, 1941, and December 17, 1941 (55 Stat. 14, 197, 810). The above grouping includes defense housing provided by the Division of Defense Housing of the Federal Works Agency, the Division of Mutual Ownership of the Federal Works Agency, the Public Buildings Administration, and the Farm Security Administration. There is also included certain defense housing constructed by the United States Maritime Commission with its own funds and transferred under the terms of the Lanham Act. The public war housing program budget deals with these operations.

(b) Management and disposition of properties leased by the Government and remodeled to produce additional dwelling units for war workers, also under titles I and III, and section 401, of the act of October 14, 1940 (54 Stat. 1125), as amended. These operations are discussed in the budget for the homes conversion program.

(c) Completion of development and supervision over local management of temporary dwellings for veterans, produced under sections 501 and 502 of the act of October 14, 1940, as amended. The budget for the veterans' re-use housing program shows these activities.

3. Completion of two small programs: (a) Disposition, on assignments of the War Assets Administration, of surplus housing property of other agencies; and (b) contracts for the Foreign Economic Administration to produce portable shelter units for the United Kingdom and France. Budgetary presentations for these activities appear in the budgets for the War Assets Administration and Department of State, respectively.

In addition to the six program budgets outlined above, there is also a seventh budget for administrative expenses, Public Housing Administration. Since the Public Housing Administration is operated as a single homogeneous organization, instead of being subdivided into separate organizations to administer each program, this budget covers the total administrative expense requirements of the Administration, with the exception of the Defense Homes Corporation, and distributes these expenses to the various programs on the basis of work load.

Purpose and Financial Organization

The public war housing program authorized under title I of the Lanham Act is in the liquidation stage. Pending ultimate disposition, veterans and their families receive preference on all dwelling units becoming available.

As of June 30, 1947, approximately $1,685 million had been allotted to Public Housing Administration from funds made available under titles I, II, and IV of the Lanham Act, temporary shelter acts, and Public Laws 781 and 835.

Section 303 of the Lanham Act, as amended, authorized the use of income derived from project operations to pay expenses for project operation and maintenance. It also provided for the establishment of a $25 million reserve for expenses in connection with the disposition operations of projects constructed with Lanham Act funds. This reserve has been established from the net income from project operations and sales proceeds from the disposition of terminated war housing. Of this reserve, $24 million has been allocated to this program and $1 million to the homes conversion program.

Analysis of Budget Programs

The public war housing program is now divided into two major activities: management and disposition. The scope of the program is shown by the following table:

	Actual, June 30, 1947		Estimated, June 30, 1948		Estimated, June 30, 1949
	Projects	Units	Projects	Units	Projects	Units
Management:
Active	1,523	373,627	1,194	301,828	697	174,960
Inactive and in process of disposition	119	36,203	78	20,002	14	3,870
Total under management	1,642	409,830	1,272	321,830	711	178,830
To be disposed of during fiscal year			370	88,000	561	143,000

DEVELOPMENT

All construction and site work has been completed; therefore all development activity will be confined to clean up of paper work connected with contractors' claims, land deficiency judgments, and various control records. All such clean-up work, except court actions, is scheduled for completion by June 30, 1948. It is estimated that the settlement of contracts, land deficiency judgments, and currently unliquidated obligations will result in expenditures in fiscal year 1948 of $2,748,122 and $600,390 in fiscal year 1949.

MANAGEMENT OPERATIONS

The requirements for project operation and maintenance are based upon the following policies, assumptions, and objectives:

1. Many temporary projects must continue in operation several more years to serve veterans and servicemen; therefore, extensive repairs and replacements will be necessary. Basic systems such as utilities, water and sewerage, due to limitations on construction and maintenance, will require extensive replacements. For the same reasons much painting, building repair, and road rebuilding will be inescapable. Therefore, the expenditures in fiscal years 1948 and 1949 generally will be higher than for fiscal year 1947.

2. Permanent projects must be well maintained in order to obtain the maximum return to the Government from their disposition. Shortages of material and labor have delayed maintenance programs. It is believed that sufficient labor and materials are now available to permit bringing all projects up to the requisite standard of maintenance. It is estimated, therefore, that the cost for fiscal years 1948 and 1949 generally will be higher than for fiscal year 1947.

3. It is estimated that utility costs will increase approximately 5 percent in fiscal years 1948 and 1949 over fiscal year 1947, due to increases in consumption and rate increases.

4. Deficit operations of family dwelling units will be permitted in exceptional cases only.

5. Operating improvements may be approved where the health and safety of tenants is involved or where the investment will be more than offset by savings within 2 years. Previous policy permitted improvements only for health and safety, and liberalization will result in an increase in operating improvements during fiscal years 1948 and 1949.

The summary income and expense factors for active projects are shown in the following table. These factors are based on the preceding assumptions and actual past experience and are expressed in terms of income and expense per unit per month.

	Actual, 1947		Estimate, 1948		Estimate, 1949
	Direct operation	Leased	Direct operation	Leased	Direct operation	Leased
Family dwelling units:
Operating income	$32.43	$34.08	$32.17	$33.88	$32.17	$33.88
Total expense	18.89	22.66	20.64	24.27	20.64	24.27

Net operating income	.61	.80	2.02	(.05)	2.02	(.05)

Note.—Amounts in parentheses represent deficit.

Total operating income of $70,838,900 is estimated for fiscal year 1948 and $49,096,700 for fiscal year 1949 for leased and directly operated projects combined. Expenses directly related to project operation are estimated at $31,079,150 for fiscal year 1948 and $19,693,450 for 1949, producing an estimated net operating income of $39,759,750 for fiscal year 1948 and $29,403,250 for fiscal year 1949 (before administrative expenses, direct non-operating expenses, losses, and charge-offs).

DISPOSITION

Rapid disposition of all public war housing in a manner which will best serve the interests of the Federal Government is now the prime objective.

(a) Permanent family dwelling units.—The estimates for fiscal years 1948 and 1949 are shown in the following table:

Permanent housing	Estimate, 1948	Estimate, 1949
Transferred to local housing authorities:
Units		20,000
Asset values written off		$88,000,000
Transferred to other Federal agencies:
Units	10,000
Asset values written off	$43,850,000
Permanent units sold	38,000	83,000
Asset values written off	$161,442,000	$351,354,000
Cost of restoring leased land to owners	171,000	411,000
Proceeds from sale (gross):
Cash	69,096,000	154,352,000
Mortgage notes	6,155,000
Sales expenses	3,800,000	8,300,000
Asset values removed by transfer of owned land to War Assets Administration	268,000	646,000

Streets, and in some cases community facilities such as playgrounds and public spaces, will be dedicated to the city or community in which the project is an integral part. Sewer and water systems will be dedicated with the streets where sale of these utilities is not possible. The value of dedications in the fiscal year 1948 is estimated at $5.4 million and in fiscal year 1949 at $11.2 million. These sums are included in asset values written off on sale of units.

Disposition expenses on permanent units include advertising, brokers' and attorneys' fees, and surveys and appraisals, and are estimated at $100 per unit, exclusive of administrative expenses. The gross return on permanent units sold on site is estimated to be $2,720, or a net return of $2,620 after disposition expenses. The gross return on demountable units sold off site is estimated to be $800, or a net return of $700 after disposition expenses.

Prices obtainable from the sale of permanent units are conditioned by the following circumstances:

1. Depreciation has been extremely high in all war housing projects due to the use of substitute materials which were specified to conserve materials needed during the war. These substitute materials now show marked signs of deterioration and in many cases need replacement.

2. Many projects are extremely difficult to sell and concessions must be made in the selling price because of location in communities or sections of communities not favorable for peacetime activities.

3. The sales prices of all projects which must be sold at fixed prices are established on a long-term-use basis and not present inflated market values.

4. Smaller returns from the sale of demountable units result from the high cost to the purchaser for demounting, transporting, and reerecting these units.

All sales of permanent units other than for cash were stopped on February 25, 1947, upon the joint request of the House Banking and Currency Committee and the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Government Corporations. As a result, new disposition policy statements were issued by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator which have the following effect: (1) Permanent war housing will be sold only for cash except in unusual circumstances approved by the Administrator; (2) Federal Housing Administration will insure mortgages taken by private investors in such sales (Public Law 366, 80th Cong.); (3) new priorities give preference to veterans; and (4) subdivision of projects to permit individual sales of buildings up to four units in size will be required where feasible.

(b) Temporary dwelling units.—Temporary, portable, and trailer projects shall be terminated as demand for such housing declines within the particular area. This budget assumes the disposition of temporary projects by dwelling type, as follows:

	Inventory of temporaries, actual, June 30, 1947		Disposition by demolition or otherwise
	In inactive status	In active status	Estimate, 1948	Estimate, 1949
Family dwellings	16,750	183,575	18,000	21,000
Dormitories	16,243	15,347	17,000	12,000
Trailer sites and portable shelter units	70	3,077	1,000	2,000
Trailer accommodations	1,030	10,064	4,000	5,000
Total	34,093	212,063	40,000	40,000

Temporary dwelling units will be disposed of by demolition or transfer to other agencies. Experience indicates that contractors will no longer undertake the demolition of temporary projects for the salvaged material due to the isolated location of projects, increases in labor costs, and to the lack of salvageable material. It is estimated that the average cost of demolition for fiscal years 1948 and 1949 will be $350 for family dwelling units, $90 for dormitory units, and $5 for stopgap units, trailers, and portable shelters. Many temporary family dwelling units and dormitory buildings are of masonry construction, which raises the average cost of demolition.

The following table summarizes, by method, the anticipated disposition of temporary housing for the fiscal years 1948 and 1949:

Temporary housing	Estimate, 1948	Estimate, 1949
Units disposed of:
Demolished	31,750	39,800
Trailer sites	250	200
Transferred to other Federal agencies	8,000
Total	40,000	40,000
Asset values written off:
Units demolished	$48,368,000	$76,291,000
Trailer sites	83,000	66,000
Transferred to other Federal agencies	21,600,000
Total	70,051,000	76,357,000
Asset values removed by transfer of owned land to War Assets Administration	586,800	733,150
Total assets values written off	70,637,800	77,090,150
Disposition expenses:
Restoration of leased land	373,000	466,000
Units demolished (cost)	5,054,000	8,464,000

(c) Vacant land.—All owned or leased vacant land will be declared surplus and disposed of promptly. It is assumed that it will require 3 months to dispose of leased land after it becomes vacant and 2 months for federally owned land.

It is estimated that 50 percent of the leased land returned to its owners will require the expenditure of funds for site restoration. Where such restoration is required, the cost will average $350 per acre. It is anticipated that owners of the remaining 50 percent of leased land will accept the site improvements in lieu of a site restoration settlement.

Federally owned vacant land is to be transferred to the War Assets Administration for disposal.

Operating Results

In the fiscal year 1947 the income from the operation of the public war housing program totaled $77,706,092 (see exhibit B), or $1.6 million less than originally estimated. This decline in income resulted from a decrease in the number of units under active management from 390,966 in fiscal year 1946 to 373,627 units in fiscal year 1947 and from increased expenses. As a result of an estimated decrease of 87,750 units under management in fiscal year 1948, income is estimated at $70,838,900. In fiscal year 1949 it is estimated that the total income will decline to $49,096,700 due to the decrease of 122,800 units under management.

The total direct operating expenses in fiscal year 1947 totaled $33,061,523. In fiscal year 1948 operating expenses are estimated at $31,079,150 and $19,693,450 in fiscal year 1949. The decrease in the size of program is the principal reason for the decrease in the amount of expenses.

The disposition of temporary dwelling units by demolition and the restoration to owners of 250 trailer sites on leased land will result in an asset write-off of $48,451,000 in fiscal year 1948 and $76,357,000 in fiscal year 1949. It is anticipated that 38,000 permanent units, valued at $161,441,600, will be sold in fiscal year 1948 and 83,000 units, valued at $351,354,300, will be sold in fiscal year 1949.

During fiscal year 1948 the majority of sales of permanent dwelling units will be for cash. However, a small number of mortgages will be involved in sales under commitments made prior to the change in policy. All sales in the 1949 fiscal year will be made for cash and an estimated 60 percent will be to individuals, the majority of whom will be veterans or servicemen.

Financial Condition

Assets decline steadily from June 30, 1947, through June 30, 1949. A similar decrease in capital is evident over the same period. These decreases are a direct result of the disposition of war housing projects.

Appropriated funds.—Disposition proceeds and income from management activities increase the balance of appropriated funds by the close of the 1948 fiscal year to $141,291,814 (exhibit C), of which it is anticipated that $49,609,946 will be returned to the general fund of the Treasury in fiscal year 1948, as compared to $20,832,364 which were deposited in fiscal year 1947. Similarly, $93,841,849 will be returned to the Treasury in 1949 based on present assumptions.

Fixed assets.—The fixed-asset account shows a net decrease of $273,270,492 at the close of fiscal year 1948 under 1947 and a net decrease of $516,489,610 at the close of fiscal year 1949 as compared with June 30, 1948. This decrease is due to the estimated disposition of war housing projects during the 2 fiscal years.

Earned surplus (or deficit).—The deficit of $8,226,574 as of June 30, 1947 (exhibit C) increases to $121,725,026 on June 30, 1948, and $478,735,046 on June 30, 1949, as a direct result of disposition of assets.

Total capital.—The capital investment of the Government in this program is anticipated to be $853,677,072 as of June 30, 1949, as compared with $1,540,194,023 as of June 30, 1947. The decrease is due principally to disposition activities.

Effect on Government Budget

Budgetary receipts are expected to total $140,467,122 in fiscal year 1948 and $203,332,300 in fiscal year 1949. Budgetary expenditures are estimated at $43,447,862 and $36,328,540 in the 2 years, respectively (schedule A–1).

Administrative Expenses

Estimated administrative expenses for fiscal year 1948 consist of $8,066,110 for management and disposition operations and $75,000 for development operations, the latter being derived from appropriated funds and capitalized as a part of development costs. Likewise, $7,040,720 is estimated for management and disposition operations in fiscal year 1949 and $25,000 for development.

The basis for distributing these costs is explained in the separate budget covering estimate of administrative expenses.

Purpose and Financial Organization

The homes conversion program originated under the provisions of the Lanham Act (42 U. S. C. 1521) to provide urgently needed housing for war workers by remodeling existing structures.

Of the total expenditures of $117,466,222 (exhibit C) as of June 30, 1947, $90,081,712 was expended for the development of the program from Lanham Act appropriations. In addition, capitalized operating improvements amounting to $889,528 have been financed from management income.

Section 303 of the Lanham Act, as amended, authorizes the use of operating income for property operation, including the costs of administration, and provides for a reserve for the expenses of disposition which is established at $1,000,000. Operating income is adequate to meet all operating costs in addition to permitting a substantial return to the Treasury.

Analysis of Budget Programs

The homes conversion program consists of two major activities: management and disposition, the scope of which is shown by the following table:

Activity	Actual, June 30, 1946		Actual, June 30, 1947		Estimate, June 30, 1948		Estimate, June 30, 1949
	Property	Units	Property	Units	Property	Units	Property	Units
Management	8,514	48,109	6,211	36,610	4,411	27,260	1,911	12,260
Leases canceled during year	[1] 328	[1] 1,461	2,303	10,499	1,800	10,350	2,500	15,000

[1] From inception.

DEVELOPMENT OPERATIONS

Development operations consisted of negotiating leases on suitable structures and remodeling them into apartments through private contractors. The leases generally run for 7 years with the right on the part of the Government to cancel on 30 days' notice. The initial conversion was financed entirely from appropriated funds and the whole amount capitalized. Approximately 50,000 family units were thus provided. As of June 30, 1947, only $91,173 of the initial development costs were still outstanding, all of which is expected to be paid during fiscal year 1948.

MANAGEMENT OPERATIONS

Management is conducted through 321 contract managers (real-estate-management brokers) who operate and maintain the properties and collect rents from which they pay operating and maintenance costs and retain the commission stipulated by contract. The net revenue is remitted to Public Housing Administration. Payments for rentals to lessors and mortgagees and for taxes and insurance are made directly by the Administration. Because of leasehold terminations, there will remain only an estimated 389,217 unit months of availability for occupancy in fiscal year 1948 and 237,120 in fiscal year 1949, yielding a net income from contract managers of $8,928,600 and $5,439,500 in the respective fiscal years.

DISPOSITION OPERATIONS

The program is being liquidated. It is the policy of the Public Housing Administration to negotiate cancellation of leases as rapidly as consistent with the Government's interest and at a satisfactory price.

In all cases continued occupancy preference for veterans is stipulated. By June 30, 1949, there will have been terminated approximately 69.2 percent of leaseholds which are active as of June 30, 1947.

Net operating income is charged annually to amortize initial development costs over a 7-year period, and to charge off the unamortized value of leases that are canceled during the year. As of June 30, 1947, the unamortized value of leaseholds and undepreciated value of equipment and furniture was $35,876,504. Sales of the unexpired leases to property owners are estimated to bring $3,818,000, or an average of $2,121 per property, in fiscal year 1948 and $3,630,400, or an average of $1,452, in fiscal year 1949, representing a return of 48.9 percent and 51.6 percent, respectively, on the unamortized value of leases at the time of termination.

Operating Results

As a result of management and disposition, $7,402,934 will be returned to the Treasury in fiscal year 1949 from fiscal year 1948 operations, and $5,889,766 will be returned in fiscal year 1950 from 1949 operations.

Financial Condition

As of June 30, 1947, appropriated funds totaled $9,571,181 including a balance of $140,118 of direct appropriations authorized by the Lanham Act for development purposes. The development funds are to be used during fiscal year 1948 to settle development accounts payable of $91,173 (exhibit C), and the remainder, $48,945, will be returned to the Office of the Administrator (exhibit A). The remainder of the appropriated funds consists of the $1 million disposition reserve, $4,139 to cover unliquidated management obligations, and the balance to be returned to the Treasury in fiscal year 1948. Exclusive of the funds earmarked for return to the Treasury and the disposition reserve, appropriated fund balances at the close of fiscal years 1948 and 1949 consist only of small amounts of less than $7,000 in each year to cover unliquidated obligations.

Effect on Government Budget

Budgetary receipts are expected to total $13,018,705 in fiscal year 1948 and $9,325,366 in fiscal year 1949. Budgetary expenditures are estimated at $5,129,724 and $3,045,400 in the 2 years respectively (schedule A–1).

Administrative Expenses

The administrative expenses as set forth in the income and expense statement (exhibit B) are paid from rental income and termination proceeds. Justification of these amounts is contained in the consolidated estimate of Public Housing Administration administrative expenses.

Purpose and Financial Organization

The purpose of the veterans' re-use housing program is to alleviate the housing difficulties of servicemen and veterans and their families, including veterans attending educational institutions. This program is conducted under authority of title V of the Lanham Act as amended. Enactment of title V (59 Stat. 260) on June 23, 1945, authorized the National Housing Agency, now Housing and Home Finance Agency, to exercise the war powers of the Lanham Act in the interest of veterans' re-use housing. An amendment to title V on December 31, 1945 (59 Stat. 674), and a later amendment on March 28, 1946 (60 Stat. 85), likewise provided for the conversion of surplus military and other war housing to temporary veterans' housing.

Congress appropriated $191,900,000 on December 28, 1945 (59 Stat. 632), and $253,727,000 on April 12, 1946 (60 Stat. 88), for title V use. These original appropriations, supplemented by adjustments including funds transferred under authority of section 502 (2) of the Lanham Act, made available for title V use, funds in the amount of $457,659,901. Of this total, $439,212,814 transferred to the Public Housing Administration, provided approximately 173,000 accommodations. Some 8,500 additional accommodations on which actual construction work was started could not be completed due to rising costs. Accordingly, an additional appropriation of $35.5 million was made (Public Law 256, 80th Cong.) on July 29, 1947, to insure completion of the suspended accommodations and for other specified purposes. The Public Housing Administration is to receive $32,843,029 of this total from the Housing and Home Finance Agency unless favorable experience indicates a lesser sum may be sufficient.

Analysis of Budget Programs

In the following analysis, owing to differences in basic legislation, activities financed from the funds originally provided are discussed separately from those financed from the more recently appropriated $35.5 million.

The production of approximately 173,000 federally financed accommodations, as provided by the original funds, was achieved by joint action on the part of the Federal Government and other agencies including educational institutions, State or political subdivisions, local public agencies, and nonprofit organizations. The pattern of joint action between the Public Housing Administration and other agencies required that interested agencies agree to provide sites, including the development of streets, sidewalks, and trunk utilities on the sites, and undertake to manage the projects in accordance with prescribed standards. In order to expedite the panelizing, moving and re-erecting of war housing converted to veterans' re-use purposes, however, the Administration was obliged to make use of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts with established firms. Such action was necessary since most contractors, owing to uncertain costs, would not submit bids on a lump sum contract basis. Likewise, most local bodies were either too inexperienced or too uncertain of costs to accept grants to do their own development work. Under these circumstances, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts provided the only method of initiating promptly such a widespread housing program.

The additional 8,500 accommodations, to be financed from the recent appropriation, are scheduled to be under construction by December 31, 1947, and physically completed before June 30, 1948.

In addition to the federally financed accommodations there are about 80,800 nonfederally financed accommodations which have been allocated. A total of 53,271 of these accommodations were completed as of June 30, 1947, and it is estimated that by June 30, 1948, the remainder will also be under management.

The following table summarizes scheduled progress in this program:

[Fiscal years ending June 30, 1947 and 1948]

Item	Number of accommodations
	Actual, 1947	Estimate, 1948
Federally financed:
Suspended	8,522	----------
Under construction	4,727	----------
Under management	168,197	181,446
Subtotal	181,446	181,446
Nonfederally financed: Completed	53,271	80,804
Grand total	234,717	262,250

In addition to the units being provided by this program, approximately 276,000 dwelling units in other projects under the jurisdiction of the Administration were occupied by veterans and servicemen and their families as of June 30, 1947.

DEVELOPMENT OPERATIONS

The rates of obligation and expenditure for the new part of the veterans' re-use housing program are presented in the table which follows. Item A refers to accommodations eligible for reactivation by virtue of having been dismantled, transported, and unloaded, or on which actual construction work was started at the time suspensions were ordered. Experience to date has been favorable in awarding contracts on a fixed price basis. Item B concerns the reimbursement of local bodies and educational institutions for funds expended (exclusive of costs of site acquisition and preparation, or installation of streets and utility mains) in the completion of units which would otherwise have been suspended. Items C and D also concern reimbursements of local bodies and educational institutions. These two items, respectively, cover the costs of utilities and other work performed on a reimbursable basis and the costs incurred on units which were eliminated from the program for completion because of being ineligible for inclusion in Item A.

MANAGEMENT OPERATIONS

The Federally financed portion of the entire veterans' re-use housing program, approximately 181,500 accommodations, consists of several types of projects: Family dwellings, dormitories, trailer family dwellings, and trailer dormitories. The following table shows the distribution of these types:

Type	Number of accommodations
	Educational institutions	Local public agencies	Total
Family dwellings	41,589	78,913	120,502
Dormitories	48,128	366	48,494
Trailer family dwellings	7,926	4,392	12,318
Trailer dormitories	132		132
Total accommodations	97,775	83,671	181,446

The per unit month net return to the Public Housing Administration is shown on the following table by type of accommodation for fiscal years 1947, 1948, and 1949:

Type of accommodation	Net return per unit month
	Actual,[1] 1947	Estimate, 1948	Estimate, 1949
Family dwellings	$9.80	$9.00	$9.70
Dormitories	1.72	1.50	1.70
Trailers	2.96	2.60	2.93

[1] Based upon approximately 65 percent of total coverage.

The forecast of reduced net return per unit month for fiscal year 1948 is based primarily upon current inadequate staffing, under which it is not feasible to provide adequate supervision and technical guidance to local bodies. As a consequence, operating expenses are expected to increase.

For fiscal year 1949 the per unit month net return is expected to rise to $9.70 per accommodation for family dwellings, $1.70 for dormitories, and $2.93 for trailer family dwellings, thus representing approximately $1.7 million in additional income to the Federal Government. In this forecast it is assumed that rental income will continue at the current level and that operating expenses will drop appreciably with the resumption of adequate Administration supervision and guidance. A somewhat higher estimate of additional income could be achieved, were it not for the high maintenance costs characteristic of temporary housing of this type. As the projects get older costs become increasingly greater. Apart from the additional income resulting from adequate supervision, such staffing is necessary to protect the interests of the Government by strengthening accounting and auditing controls.

Operating Results

The anticipated results of operations during fiscal years 1948 and 1949 are shown in exhibit B. These results indicate an estimated total management income of $14,265,600 for fiscal year 1948 and of $15,958,600 for fiscal year 1949. They also indicate an estimated program loss of $198,505,553 for fiscal year 1948 and a net program income for fiscal year 1949 amounting to $2,890,860. In interpreting these results, it should be noted that the estimated write-off of transfers of real property amounts to $203,301,796 for fiscal year 1948 and to $8,910,000 for fiscal year 1949. The transfer of title to real property is to be made to educational institutions and other local bodies in accordance with the provisions of the Lanham Act as all project contract obligations are liquidated.

Return of funds to the Treasury is estimated in fiscal year 1949 in the amount of $6,796,851, representing income earned by local bodies in fiscal year 1947, and paid to the Public Housing Administration in fiscal year 1948.

Financial Condition

The financial condition of the program as of June 30, 1946, 1947, 1948, and 1949, is shown on exhibit C. The following are brief comments with respect to the more significant items:

Accounts receivable (due from local bodies).—In accordance with the terms of contracts with local bodies, net income is payable to the Administration after the close of each Federal fiscal year. Consequently, $13,625,000 and $15,318,000 are shown as accounts receivable at the close of fiscal years 1948 and 1949, respectively.

Land, structures, and equipment.—This item represents housing in various stages of preparation for re-use and for which the assets have not been written off. It consists of expenditures for direct costs of re-utilization and is exclusive of the original cost of the structures since they were transferred from other programs or agencies without reimbursement. The amount of $12,593,303 shown as of June 30, 1948, represents housing, the asset value of which has not been written off. As of June 30, 1949, title to all housing, with the exception of $8,693,303 for directly managed units, will have been transferred to local bodies and the asset value written off.

Effect on Government Budget

Budgetary receipts are expected to total $7,990,950 in fiscal year 1948 and $14,264,600 in fiscal year 1949. Budgetary expenditures are estimated at $68,454,510 and $6,183,469 in the 2 years, respectively (schedule A–1).

Administrative Expenses

Public Law 256, Eightieth Congress, appropriated $35.5 million for development of additional veterans' housing and provided that not to exceed $700,000 was to be available for the administrative expenses of this activity only during fiscal year 1948. In connection with the delegation of authorities and responsibilities for producing the additional veterans' housing, the Administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency has allocated to the Public Housing Administration $600,000 of the administrative expense limitation. This amount, applicable only to development under Public Law 256, Eightieth Congress, is separate from the general authorization for the administrative expenses of the Public Housing Administration, and accordingly is shown in detail in this program.

Other administrative expenses are explained in detail in the administrative expense budget.

Purpose and Financial Organization

The purpose of this organization was to provide housing accommodations of a permanent nature in defense areas for use by defense workers during the emergency, such housing to be disposed of subsequent to the emergency at prevailing market prices. Disposition is now taking place.

The Corporation has an authorized capital stock of $10 million all of which was issued and remains outstanding. Allocations to the Federal Loan Administrator from the Emergency Fund for the President were originally used to purchase the capital stock, but these funds were subsequently reimbursed from Lanham Act appropriations authorized to be used for that purpose (42 U. S. C. 1523). The Corporation was authorized to borrow not to exceed $65,750,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The balance of such borrowings, amounting to $42,830,416 at June 30, 1947, is to be repaid during fiscal year 1948, principally from proceeds of disposition.

Program Schedule

	Fiscal year 1948				Fiscal year 1949
Dwelling Units	First quarter	Second quarter	Third quarter	Fourth quarter
In operation beginning of quarter	7,416	7,404	1,237	----	----
Disposed of during quarter	12	6,167	1,237	----	----
Projects
In operation beginning of quarter	8	7	3	----	----
Disposed of during quarter	1	4	3	----	----

Included in the property holdings of the Defense Homes Corporation are three tracts of land amounting to 75 acres which will also be disposed of during fiscal year 1948.

Analysis of Budget Programs

The only remaining activities are preparation for and consummation of pending sales of properties with administration of operations to sales closings. It is estimated that all properties will be disposed of by March 31, 1948.

Operating Results

Operating income and expenses as shown in exhibit A are expected to result in a net operating income (before provision for depreciation) of $267,300.

Estimated sales prices less sales expenses as shown in exhibit A should provide funds amounting to $52,825,582.

The above funds will be available for retirement of debt and capital stock. All estimates of recoveries are based on consummation of sales now pending and present legislative provisions governing disposition.

Financial Condition

Notes payable to Reconstruction Finance Corporation at June 30, 1947, are shown in exhibit C at $42,830,416 and repayments are estimated in the same amount predicated on acceptance by Reconstruction Finance Corporation of first mortgage notes of purchasers of properties at face value.

It is estimated that assets at June 30, 1948, will consist of cash of $101,000 after retirement of all capital stock except $1,000 par value. The corporation laws of the State of Maryland require retention of enough assets to cover possible claims for 3 years before final dissolution is possible.

Administrative Expenses

No request is made for funds for fiscal year 1949.

Purpose and Financial Organization

The United States Housing Authority, which was transferred to the Federal Public Housing Authority under Executive Order 9070 and later became the Public Housing Administration under Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1947, was created on September 1, 1937, by Public Law 412 (42 U. S. C. 1401) to provide low-rent housing for families of low income who could not otherwise afford decent, safe, and sanitary dwellings. This basic act authorized the Authority to make loans to local public housing agencies to aid in financing slum clearance and the development of low-rent housing projects. To bring rents in the completed dwellings within financial reach of families in the lowest income groups, the Authority was empowered to make limited annual contributions toward the operation of the projects. This act also authorized the President to transfer to the Authority the public-housing projects and functions of the Public Works Administration housing division, and this was done in October 1937, by Executive Order 7732.

An important amendment to this act was added by Public Law 671 (42 U. S. C. 1501), approved June 28, 1940, which made available the unused portion of the borrowing authorization provided in the basic act for the construction of permanent housing to be used primarily for housing war workers for the duration of the war. Practically all of these projects have now received Presidential approval for conversion to low-rent use. Occupants whose incomes exceed the maximum allowable for tenants in low-rent projects are systematically being removed and replaced by low-income families. When this is accomplished, these projects will be on a basis of operation comparable to that of Public Law 412 projects.

Public Law 301, approved July 1, 1947, amended the United States Housing Act of 1937 so as to permit loans, capital grants, or annual contributions for low-rent housing and slum-clearance projects where construction costs exceed present cost limitations upon condition that local housing authorities pay the difference between statutory cost limitations and the actual construction costs. This act permits local authorities to start building operations, which were previously deferred, as localities are able to provide funds.

The United States Housing Authority was created as a "body corporate of perpetual duration" with $1 million in capital stock subscribed by the Treasury. The United States Housing Act, as amended, provides a borrowing and a lending power amounting to $800 million and limits the total annual contributions for which the Authority may contract to a maximum of $28 million per year.

As of June 30, 1947, the Administration had a balance outstanding of $347 million of notes payable to the United States Treasury. Long-term loans of $348,220,000 had been made to local housing authorities, of which $71,796,000 had been repaid by refunding operations and $2,204,000 by advance repayments. Another $2,433,258 was outstanding on short-term advance loan notes. Thus, the outstanding balance of loans receivable from local housing authorities, as of June 30, 1947, amounted to $276,653,258. An amount of $42,263,459 had been used for direct Public Housing Administration construction of war-housing projects under Public Law 671. From private sources local housing authorities had obtained $374,941,500. This amount is made up of $144,484,500 in bonds and $230,457,000 in temporary loan notes secured by a Public Housing Administration pledge to redeem them at maturity, if necessary. The total paid-in capital as of June 30, 1947, consists of capital stock amounting to $1 million, funds and property transferred from the Public Works Administration housing division amounting to $140,746,284 and cumulative appropriations for the payment of annual contributions on low-rent projects in an amount of $56,211,611.

Analysis of Budget Programs

The major activities under the United States Housing Act Program may be divided into two groups: (a) Those connected with the development and capital financing of low-rent projects; and (b) those concerned with the management of projects and the payment of subsidies in the form of annual contributions. Within each group of activities, locally owned and federally owned projects are discussed separately as they present different types of problems.

This submission contains a request for an appropriation of $6.2 million for the payment of annual contributions for projects which are locally owned and operated. Since the projects are not the property of the Public Housing Administration, their operations are reflected in the financial statements of the United States Housing Act program only to the extent of the loans made to the local housing authorities and the amount of annual contributions payable. This narrative, however, includes tables supporting the estimate of annual contributions. The development and management operations of the federally owned projects are covered fully in the financial statements.

Under the United States Housing Act, low-rent housing activities are primarily a subject for local determination and control. Title to the projects and primary responsibility for their operation rests with local housing authorities established under the laws of the political subdivisions in which they are located. The Federal Government provides supervisory, technical, and financial assistance to the extent necessary to assure compliance with the United States Housing Act.

The following table shows the number of developments (consisting of all housing units located on a single site) and units in the United States Housing Act program as of June 30, 1947, and contains a forecast of additions and progress in the program as of June 30, 1948 and 1949:

DEVELOPMENT AND CAPITAL FINANCING OPERATIONS

Locally owned projects—Public Laws 412 and 671.—Federal assistance is provided only under conditions prescribed by the United States Housing Act. Financial aid in the form of short-term loans is made available to local authorities during the early phases of project development. Permanent financing, which normally occurs after construction is approximately 75 percent complete, is accomplished by the sale of two types of bonds—A bonds sold to private investors on the basis of competitive bids and B bonds sold to the Public Housing Administration for the balance of the development cost. The entire loan and annual contribution authorizations provided in the act have been committed, but actual construction of a number of projects was deferred because of the war.

The following table shows the details of the Administration's participation in temporary and permanent financing of low-rent housing projects for the fiscal years 1948 and 1949.

Approximately 95 percent of the short-term financing requirements during fiscal years 1948 and 1949 will be supplied by private investors at lower interest rates than the Public Housing Administration is required by law to charge. However, in financing the rural program, it will be necessary for the Administration to supply 75 percent of all financing.

The Administration's financing activities during the fiscal years 1948 and 1949 will be directed primarily toward the financing of Public Law 671 projects with the anticipated result that by June 30, 1949, about one-half of all such projects will be permanently financed. Refunding of Public Law 412 projects now permanently financed will be confined during the fiscal year 1948 to those projects where refunding is immediately desirable. Refunding operations will be accelerated during the fiscal year 1949 on those projects where refunding is permissible in accordance with present policies.

It is estimated that 12 urban projects and 8 rural projects will be under construction by June 30, 1949. Five of the urban projects totaling 3,800 units will be reactivated as a direct result of Public Law 301, Eightieth Congress, amending the United States Housing Act of 1937 to permit the construction of deferred projects where the local housing authority agrees to pay the difference between the cost limitations and actual construction costs. Approximately $5 million in B bonds are estimated to be purchased as a result of reactivated urban projects during the fiscal year 1949.

The correction of war caused construction deficiencies on projects will be held to a minimum during fiscal year 1948 but is estimated to increase during fiscal year 1949 as material and contracting difficulties are overcome.

The net effect of all anticipated transactions in local housing authority series B bonds will be an increase of $9,876,000 as of June 30, 1948, and an additional increase of $20,950,000 as of June 30, 1949.

Federally owned projects.—No new direct development by the Public Housing Administration is contemplated, but there will be an estimated expenditure of $1.5 million in the fiscal year 1948 and $2.5 million in the fiscal year 1949 for the liquidation of outstanding obligations, for final contract settlements, and for correction of war-caused deficiencies.

MANAGEMENT OPERATIONS

Locally owned projects—Public Laws 412 and 671.—As in the case of development operations, the local housing authority is required in the management of these projects to observe certain rules established under the basic act. These rules are concerned with the eligibility of tenants, with rent-income ratios, with standards of physical operation and maintenance, and with accounting practices. The Public Housing Administration reviews management operations of the local housing authority and audits its books to assure compliance with these rules.

Low-rent projects owned by local authorities have three sources of income: (a) Rental income, (b) a contribution by the local community and (c) a Federal annual contribution. Within the maximum provided by the United States Housing Act, the Federal annual contribution actually paid equals the operating deficit of a project, after giving effect to the local subsidy in the form of tax remissions or exemptions. The operating deficit is determined by subtracting the total income from the total expenses. Total expenses consist of operating expenses, amounts reserved in the period for repairs, maintenance and replacements and for vacancy and collection losses, and the amounts expended for debt service and payments in lieu of taxes. The contribution is paid in the first or second quarter following the close of the project fiscal year in which the deficit was incurred. A project fiscal year may close at the end of any quarter of the year.

It should be noted that annual contribution requirements in a particular Federal fiscal year are determined by the local operating experience in varied project fiscal years. For example, the annual contribution requirements in the Federal fiscal year 1949 are determined by the operating experience of projects with fiscal years ending either March 31, June 30, September 30, December 31, 1948 or March 31, 1949, depending on the annual contribution date of the particular project. This means that local project operating experience occurring before the beginning of a Federal fiscal year largely determines the annual contribution requirements for that year.

In fiscal year 1949 there will be 271 statutory projects consisting of 514 developments and 145,009 dwelling units which are owned by local housing authorities and which are eligible for annual contribution payments. The appropriation request of $6,200,000 covers the entire estimated contribution requirements in fiscal year 1949. Actual annual contribution payments in fiscal year 1947 were $5,666,630 and contributions in fiscal year 1948 are estimated at $3,700,000.

The following table shows the major items making up the annual contribution requirements.

In addition to the income and expense experience shown on the above table, it should be noted that there are contributions for noncontinental projects in Puerto Rico and Hawaii, and nonrecurring contributions. The latter consist of supplemental contributions which are made when there are approved increases in development cost.

The decrease in fiscal year 1948 of $2 million in total contributions payable is caused primarily by the following two factors:

1. Operating income.—Actual income through June 30, 1947, affecting 1948 contribution requirements for 65 percent of the Public Law 412 program is running 5 percent above fiscal year 1947 actual income. Some of the more important reasons for this upward trend are the general rise in tenant income, the admission of low-income veterans whose income rises sharply after they become settled in civilian life, and the inability of high-income tenants to secure dwellings elsewhere.

2. Payments in lieu of taxes.—Legislation making appropriations for Government corporations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1948 (Public Law 268), provides that no part of the annual contribution appropriation shall be used to pay to any local housing authority any contribution occasioned by payments in lieu of taxes in excess of the amount specified in the original contract between such agency and the Public Housing Administration. The estimated effect of the appropriation legislation in eliminating payments over the contract amounts will lead to a decrease from 1947 actual of $1.3 million on Public Law 412 projects and $100,000 on Public Law 671 projects.

The increase of $2.5 million in the amount of the annual contribution required from fiscal year 1948 to 1949 is caused by the following four factors.

1. Operating income.—During the demobilization period, the Administration has permitted delay in the removal of over-income tenants where there has been an acute shortage of decent, safe, and sanitary accommodations. Recent revisions in policy make it mandatory for local authorities to give notice to vacate to at least 5 percent of the ineligible families each month. This policy is expected to become fully effective over that portion of the program affecting contributions in fiscal year 1949. It is estimated that removals arising from application of this policy will lead to reduction of $1,031,523 in income for locally owned low-rent projects.

2. Financing of Public Law 671 projects.—Public Law 671 projects now under temporary financing must be permanently financed in order to protect the fiscal interests of the Government. Continued temporary financing of these projects over an extended period of time would not provide a financially sound basis of operation, because of the instability of the market on both temporary notes and long-term bonds. In order to place the Public Law 671 projects on a sound fiscal basis, a program for the permanent financing of these projects will get under way in fiscal year 1948; but contributions will not be affected until fiscal year 1949. This action will result in increased debt service because of the higher interest rate under permanent financing. As a result of this change, together with the decrease in income, it is anticipated that Public Law 671 projects will require contributions amounting to $327,261 in fiscal year 1949.

3. Correction of war-caused deficiencies.—Public Law 412 and Public Law 671 projects which were planned and constructed below normal Administration standards for low-rent housing projects because of wartime scarcities and restrictions (especially those developments on which the construction contract was awarded after Jan. 1, 1942) will be brought up to such standards as materials and equipment become available. It is estimated it will be necessary to undertake corrections of war-caused deficiencies in the amount of $500,000 on permanently financed Public Law 412 projects plus $2 million on locally owned Public Law 671 projects during fiscal year 1948. In fiscal year 1949, the amount is expected to be $2.5 million for each type. Since these corrections are in the nature of capital improvements and result in an increase in the project development cost, the annual contribution requirements must necessarily be increased. In the case of Public Law 671 projects which are not yet permanently financed, the additional development cost will be taken up in the base for permanent financing, thereby obviating the necessity for a supplemental contribution.

4. Payments in lieu of taxes.—The effect of appropriation legislation for fiscal year 1948 was to eliminate all payments in lieu of taxes over the contract amount on projects requiring annual contributions. Since this led to inequalities in the treatment of various localities, the estimate for fiscal year 1949 is based upon the payment of both voluntary and contractual amounts.

The basis for the contractual amount of payments in lieu of taxes is found in the cooperation agreements which local housing authorities entered into with local taxing bodies. These agreements vary widely in their provisions concerning payments in lieu of taxes. This arose because in the early days of the United States Housing Act program, neither the Federal Government nor the local governments fully realized the effects which tax exemption of local housing authority properties would have on the municipalities involved. As a result, many of the cities executed cooperation agreements which called for no payments in lieu of taxes. Later on, as experience demonstrated the need for some payments in lieu of taxes, the local housing authorities coming into the program entered into cooperation agreements which called for payments either in specified dollar amounts or in terms of percentages of the shelter rent collected, ranging from 2 to 5 percent.

In order to equalize the system for permitting payments in lieu of taxes and to give adequate recognition of the amount of services provided—in the form of schools, police protection, and fire protection—a uniform policy was adopted permitting local housing authorities to make voluntary payments above the amounts provided for in the cooperation agreements. Under this policy, the total amount of payments in lieu of taxes—both contract and voluntary—may not exceed 10 percent of the amount collected in shelter rent.

The policy of permitting both contract and voluntary payments is estimated to result in an increase during fiscal year 1949 of $1,361,712 over the amount of payments in lieu of taxes made in fiscal year 1948.

contributions payable in fiscal year 1948. The estimates for fiscal year 1949 are based on the fiscal year 1948 estimates, with adjustments for income, operating expenses, and debt service charges as discussed above.

For comparative purposes, the estimates can best be summarized in terms of average income and expense per dwelling unit per month of operation. This method of comparison eliminates differences in gross amounts brought about by increases in the number of projects eligible for annual contributions. The table following summarizes per unit per month averages for locally owned Public Law 412 and 671 projects. It should be noted that the difference between operating income and total expense is equal to the difference between operating gain and operating contributions. The two totals are necessary since operations of some projects result in a gain although on the majority of Public Law 412 projects the operations result in a deficit, thus requiring contributions. As contributions are determined on a project basis, operating gain on one project is not available for reducing contributions on another.

In fiscal year 1949, it will be noted that withdrawals are expected to be made from the reserve for repairs, maintenance, and replacements. This is caused by increasing expenditures for these purposes as the projects become older.

Federally owned projects.—During fiscal year 1949 there will be under management 103 federally owned projects consisting of 41,693 units, as shown in the program table. With the exception of 7 Public Works Administration projects of 2,481 dwelling units, all of these projects will be leased to local housing authorities. Under the leased type of management, only the net operating income before reserve charges is actually received by the Administration. Rents are collected from tenants and operating expenses are paid by local housing authorities.

The comparative statement of income and expense indicates that a deficit is expected during fiscal years 1948 and 1949. This arises primarily because of interest and depreciation charges at federally owned projects. These charges consist of interest on the unamortized cost at the rate currently paid by the Administration on funds borrowed from the Treasury, plus depreciation on the depreciable assets (which is approximately equal to the development cost of the project less the cost of acquiring the site) at the rate of 1.75 percent per annum. Interest on Treasury notes was negotiated in 1947 at the rate of 1 percent; in 1948, the rate will increase to 1.75 percent. It is assumed the rate in 1949 will be the same as in 1948. Therefore interest charges on the funds disbursed by the Administration at Public Law 412 and Public Law 671 federally owned projects will reflect a corresponding rise from 1 percent in fiscal year 1947 to 1.75 percent in fiscal years 1948 and 1949. Since no funds were disbursed by Public Housing Administration for construction of Public Works Administration projects, there is no charge for interest but only for depreciation of assets. The charge for depreciation in fiscal year 1949 will show little change over 1948 at Public Law 412, Public Law 671, and Public Works Administration projects.

Another reason for the deficit is the anticipated decline in dwelling rent income as the policy governing removal of high-income tenants becomes increasingly effective. Unlike the locally owned program where the application of the policy will affect primarily 1949 income, this policy at federally owned projects will be reflected in operating experience during both fiscal years 1948 and 1949 because of the later period covered.

Other trends are similar to those on the locally owned projects. The project budgets are summarized below in terms of average income and expense per dwelling unit per month.

1947 as compared with an estimated $3,406,074 in fiscal year 1948 and $6,703,705 in fiscal year 1949. The principal reason for these deficits is that the statement reflects annual contribution expenditures of $5,666,630 in fiscal year 1947, $3,700,000 in fiscal year 1948, and $6,200,000 in fiscal year 1949.

The following factors show significant changes during the period covered:

(1) Rental income.—Rental income declines in each year because of the application of the eviction policy as high-income tenants are replaced with low-income tenants.

(2) Interest.—Interest expense shows a sharp rise in fiscal year 1948 due to the increase from 1 percent to 1.75 percent in the interest rate paid by Public Housing Administration on funds borrowed from the Treasury. Part of these increased expenses is offset by interest charges to management operations on federally owned Public Law 412 and Public Law 671 projects. The rise in interest income is attributable to interest obtained on the obligations of local housing authorities. These increased earnings arise from purchases of local authority bonds issued to cover permanent financing on Public Law 671 projects.

(3) Net adjustments of reserves.—Costs for repairs, maintenance, and replacements normally increase from year to year on individual projects, principally in relation to the age of the projects. A fixed amount has been set up in the operating program for each project as the average repair, maintenance, and replacements expense during the first 10 years of operation. Increased withdrawals are expected in fiscal years 1948 and 1949 as projects become older and expenditures for repairs, maintenance, and replacements increase.

Financial Condition

Reference to the comparative statement of financial condition (exhibit C) discloses an increase of $4,899,081 in assets during the fiscal year 1948 and a further increase of $20,368,595 by June 30, 1949. A comparable increase in liabilities is also indicated. These increases are the direct result of additional borrowings from the United States Treasury for the purpose of purchasing series B bonds from local housing authorities that are placing Public Law 671 projects into permanent financing. Brief comments on significant items shown in exhibit C follow.

Investments.—During the fiscal year 1949 investments of project operating reserves in Government bonds show a decrease of $878,500, resulting primarily from increasing expenditures for repairs, maintenance, and replacements as projects become older.

Loans receivable.—This account reflects a sharp increase in local housing authority obligations held as of the end of fiscal year 1949. This increase is primarily the result of permanent financing of locally owned Public Law 671 projects.

Effect on Government Budget

Budgetary receipts are expected to total $6,094,375 in fiscal year 1948 and $6,470,625 in fiscal year 1949. Budgetary expenditures are estimated at $9,684,463 and $27,473,265 in the 2 years respectively. (Schedule A–1.)

Administrative Expenses

There is no separate organization for the administration of this program within the Public Housing Administration. Administrative expenses of this program reflect the proportionate share of total administrative costs attributable to development and management operations under this program. The basis for this distribution is explained in the consolidated estimate of Public Housing Administration administrative expenses.

It is estimated that the administration of this program will require $2.5 million in fiscal year 1949.

SUBSISTENCE HOMESTEAD AND GREENBELT TOWNS PROGRAM

Purpose and Financial Organization

The subsistence homestead and greenbelt towns program, originally consisting of assets representing $62,214,291, is carried on under the terms of the Bankhead-Black Act of 1936 (40 U. S. C. 431), which provided that operating income may be used for operation and maintenance. These projects are being operated only until they can be disposed of to best interests of the Government. Congress has previously authorized the use of operating revenues for certain expenses in connection with disposition under this program and a further expenditure is anticipated during fiscal year 1949 to cover predisposition appraisals.

Analysis of Budget Programs

The program status of the subsistence homestead and greenbelt towns program, by fiscal years is shown in the following schedule:

[Fiscal years ending June 30, 1947, 1948, and 1949]

	Actual, 1947		Estimate, 1948		Estimate, 1949
	Projects[1]	Units	Projects[1]	Units	Projects[1]	Units

Subsistence homesteads:

Total	14	611	9	134	----------	----------
Subsistence homesteads disposed of during period	----------	609	5	477	9	134

[1] Projects move from one classification to the next only after all units have done so.

MANAGEMENT OPERATIONS

For the greenbelt towns portion of the program a peak rental income of $1,397,266 was realized during fiscal year 1947, due chiefly to a high percentage of tenants paying maximum rents in a housing situation too critical to permit of rapid tenant turn-over. More recently, however, with the policy of admitting only low-income families as vacancies occur, rental income has decreased somewhat. This decrease is expected to be partially offset by the adjustment of rentals to current rental values. On this basis rental income was estimated at $1,361,000 in 1948 and $1,365,000 in 1949.

Operating expenses for these projects is expected to be slightly lower in fiscal years 1948 and 1949 than in 1947 as shown below:

Fiscal year 1949, estimate	$1,187,400
Fiscal year 1948, estimate	1,187,400
Fiscal year 1947, actual	1,191,909

For the subsistence homesteads portion of the program the volume of management operations will depend on the volume and timing of disposition operations during the current year and the budget year. By June 30, 1949, it is expected that all units will be disposed of. The effect of disposition on total operating income and expense is shown below:

	Operating income	Operating expense
Fiscal year 1949, estimate	$11,900	$5,500
Fiscal year 1948, estimate	99,500	82,700
Fiscal year 1947, actual	241,659	227,380

DISPOSITION OPERATIONS

For the subsistence homesteads portion of the program the disposition operation presents two distinct aspects—the disposition of housing units and other physical assets, and the collection of loans to homestead associations and others in connection with the operation and disposition of subsistence homestead projects. In both these aspects, disposition is taking place as rapidly as practicable. During the fiscal year 1947, the total number of units under management decreased from 1,220 to 611. It is expected that these 611 units will be disposed of during the fiscal years 1948 and 1949 through the completion of payments on lease and purchase contracts and through direct sales.

Of the homestead association loans, amounting to $1,060,434 at June 30, 1947, some $405,000 are expected to be liquidated during fiscal year 1948 principally through the refinancing of individual purchase contracts. The balance is expected to be liquidated in this manner during the 1949 fiscal year as administrative personnel become available for this work.

A determined effort is being made to liquidate all industrial cooperative loans considered wholly or partly uncollectible, by the sale of physical assets securing the loans. Since reserves have been established covering the part considered uncollectible the actual liquidation of these loans will reflect neither gain nor loss to the program.

As of June 30, 1949, wholly collectible industrial cooperative loans in amount of $9,197 and other loans in amount of $270,150 are expected to be outstanding.

No disposition of housing units of the greenbelt towns is anticipated during the fiscal years 1948 and 1949.

In accordance with the community plan prepared for the disposition of these projects, vacant lands included within the projects must be developed by private enterprise prior to the disposition of the existing improved property. For the purpose of such development Congress made a special authorization of $99,500 in fiscal year 1947 under which boundary line and topographical surveys, land-use studies, preliminary development plans, and street dedication maps have been made. In 1948 this authorization was continued in the amount of $39,500. About 150 lots have already been sold and further sales are scheduled in fiscal year 1948. Contractors interested in this phase of the plan, however, are deterred by the high cost of site improvements and building construction.

A more fundamental problem in the disposition of these projects is that of maintaining their value as model communities. With this in mind insurance companies and other interested investment groups have been provided with forecasts of the cost of operation and maintenance under private ownership. One of the principal difficulties encountered in negotiations, however, is the narrow tax base these projects provide as separate taxing communities, with resulting high taxes to the owner.

Should negotiations indicate actual sale of one or more of the greenbelt towns to be imminent, revised appraisals with supporting rent analyses and other studies must be made. Appraisers competent to analyse and appraise such complex operations are not readily available, and it is important that the Public Housing Administration have the authority to select them without regard to civil service or competitive bidding regulations. To provide for work of this kind in the fiscal year 1949 a special authorization in amount of $40,000 is requested.

Operating Results

The anticipated financial results of operations during the fiscal years 1948 and 1949 are shown in exhibit B. Income from project operations and from loans outstanding is estimated at $1,579,360 for the fiscal year 1948 and $1,444,930 for fiscal year 1949. The decreases from fiscal years 1947 to 1948 and 1948 to 1949 result from the disposition of the subsistence homesteads program, with slight falling off of revenue in the greenbelt towns program. The decrease in operating expenses from fiscal years 1947 to 1948 and 1948 to 1949 is due to the reduced subsistence homesteads program.

Financial Condition

The financial condition of the program as of June 30, 1946, 1947, 1948, and 1949 is shown in exhibit C. The rapid falling off in homestead association notes receivable in fiscal years 1948 and 1949 reflects anticipated payment before maturity through the assistance of Public Housing Administration personnel in the private refinancing of individual purchase contracts. The reduction in industrial cooperative loan notes shown reflects contemplated liquidation in fiscal years 1948 and 1949 of those loans now considered to be wholly or partially uncollectible.

During the fiscal year 1947, the policy of accounting for depreciation was instituted for the greenbelt towns portion of the program, and a reserve was established representing accrued depreciation to date. This forward step in accounting is continued in fiscal years 1948 and 1949 at the rate established.

Also during the fiscal year 1947 an analysis was made to provide a more precise accounting of the development cost of properties transferred from the Farm Security Administration. The result of this analysis was an adjustment of $335,413 in the paid-in surplus of the program.

Surplus property to be transferred to other Federal agencies for disposition is estimated at $201,500. This property comprises chiefly excess project lands.

Effect on Government Budget

The operations under the subsistence homesteads and greenbelt towns program resulted in a return of $1,276,728 to the Treasury in 1947. In fiscal years 1948 and 1949 it is estimated that $2,183,850 and $2,098,051, respectively, would be returned to the Treasury. The return of these funds is made possible through the sale of projects and units during these years and payments on notes for sales made in prior years.

Administrative Expenses

Administrative expenses are estimated for fiscal year 1948 at $158,050 and for fiscal year 1949 at $58,810. The basis for these estimates is set forth in the consolidated estimate of Public Housing Administration administrative expense.
